And of new in this present Parliament, statutis and ordains the said Act to be as ane perpetual Law, to all our Sovereine Lordis Lieges, in all times cumming. Of the quhillk the tenour followis. ITEM, the three Estaites understanding that the jurisdiction and autoritie of the Bischop of Rome, called the Pape, used within this Realme in times by-past, hes not onely bene contumelious to the Eternall God, but also very hurtfull and prejudiciall to our Sovereines autoritie, and common weill of this Realme: THEIR FOIR It is statute and ordained, that the Bischop of Rome, called the Pape, have na Jurisdiction nor autoritie within this Realme, in ony time cumming. And the furnischers of them, with finance of money, and purchassers of their title of right, or maintainers, or defenders of them, fall incurre the samis paines. And that na Bischop nor uther Prelat of this Realme, use ony Jurisdiction in time cumming, be the said Bischop of Romes autoritie, under the paine foresaid. And therefore of newe decernis and ordains, the contraveners of the famin, in ony time hereafter, to be punished according to the paines in the foresaid Act above rehearsed.

3. Asent the annulling of the Actes of Parliament, made against God his word, and maintenance of Idolatrie in ony times bypast.

ITEM, Our Sovereine Lord, with advise of his dearest Regent, and three Estaites of this present Parliament, ratifyis and apprevis the Acte under-written, made in the Parliament holdin at Edinburgh, the 24. day of August, the zeir of God, ane thousand, five hundredeth, threecore zeires. And of new in this present Parliament statutis and ordainis the said Act, to be as a perpetuall Law to all our Sovereine Lordis liegis in all times cumming. Of the quhilk the tenour followis. THE quhilk day, For-sameikle as there hes bene divers and findrie Actes of Parliament, made in King JAMES the First, Second, Thrid, Fourth and Fifth's times, Kinges of SCOTLAND for the time, and als in our Sovereine Ladies tyme, not agreeing with Gods haly word, and be them divers persones tuke occasion to maintaine Idolatrie and superstition within the Kirk of GOD, and repressing of sik persones, as were professours of the said word, quhairthrow divers innocents did suffer. And for eschewing of sik inconvenientes in time cumming, the three Estaites of Parliament, hes annulled, and declared all sik Actes made in times bypast, not agreeing with God his word, and now contrary to the Confession of Faith, according to the said word, published in this Parliament, to be of nane availe, force nor effect. And decernis the said Actes, and every ane of them, to have na effect nor strength in time to cum, bot the samin to be abolished and extinguished for ever, in sa far as any of the foirsaidis Actes are repugnant, and contrarie to the Confessioun of Faith, and word of GOD foirsaid, ratified and approved be the Estaites in this present Parliament. And therefore decernis and ordainis, the contraveners of the samin Act, in ony time hereafter, to be punished, according to the Lawes. Of the quhilk Confession of the Faith, the tenour followes.

Beleeved and Professed be the Protestantes of SCOTLAND, exhibited to the Estatis of the same in Parliament, and be their publick votis authorized, as a doctrine grounded upon the infallible Word of God.

I. Of God.

W E confesse and acknowledge ane onelie GOD, to whom onelie we must cleave, whome onelie we must serve, whome onelie we must worship, and in whom onelie we must put our trust. Who is Eternal, Infinir, Unmeasurable, Incomprehensible, Omnipotent, Invisible, ane in substance, and yet distinct in three personis, the Father, the Sonne, and the Holie Ghost. Be whom we confesse and beleve all thingis in heaven and earth, aswell Visible as Invisible, to have bene created, to be retained in their being, and to be ruled and guyded be his inscrutable Providence, to sik end, as his Eternal Wisdom, Goodnes, and Justice hes appoynted them, to the manifestation of his awin glorie.

Mat. 28. 19. 1 John 5. 7. Gen. 1. 1. Heb. 11. 3. Act. 24. 21. Prov. 16. 4.

2. Of the Creation of man.

WE confesse and acknowledge, this our GOD to have created man, to wir, our first Father Adam, to his awin Image and similitude, to whome he gave wisdom, Lordship, Justice, Free-will, & clear knowledge of himselfe, sa that in the haill nature of man, there could be noted no imperfection. Fra quhilk honour and perfection, man and woman did both fall: the woman being deceived be the Serpent, and man obeying the voyce of the woman, both conspyring against the Sovereine Majestie of GOD, who in expressed words had before threatned death, gif they presumed to eat of the forbidden tree.

3. Of Originall sinne.

BE Quhilk transgressioun, commounlie called Originall sinne, wes the Image of God utterlie defaced in man, and he and his posteritie, of nature, become Enimies to GOD, slaves to Sathan, and servandis

unto sin, in fameikle that death everlasting hes had, and fall have power and dominioun, over all that have not been, ar not, or fall not be regenerated from above, quihlk regeneration is wrocht be the power of the holie Ghost, working in the hartes of the elect of God, an assured faith in the promise of God, reveiled to us in his word, be quihlk Faith we apprehend Christ Jesus, with the graces and benefites promised in him.

4. Of the Revelation of the promise.

FOR This we constantlie beleeve, that God, after the feirfull and horrible defection of man fra his obedience, did seek Adam againe, call upon him, rebuke his sin, convict him of the same, and in the end made unto him ane most joyfull promise, to wit, that the seed of the woman sould break down the Serpents head, that is, he sould destroy the works of the devill. Quihlk promise, as it was repeated, and made mair cleare from time to time: so was it imbraced with joy, and maist constantlie received of all the faithfull, from Adam to Noe, from Noe to Abraham, from Abraham to David, and so fourth to the incarnation of Christ Jesus, all (we meane the faithfull Fathers under the Law) did see the joyfull daie of Christ Jesus, and did rejoyce.

5. The continuance, increase, and preservatioun of the Kirk.

WE Maist constantly beleeve, that God preserved, instructed, multiplied, honoured, decored, & from death called to life, his Kirk in all ages fra Adam, till the cumming of Christ Jesus in the flesh. For Abraham he called from his Fathers cuntry, him he instructed, his seede he multiplied, the same he marvellouslie preserved, and mair marvellouslie delivered, from the bondage and tyrannie of Pbarash, to them he gave his Lawes, constitutions and ceremonies, them he possessed in the Land of Canaan, to them after Judges and after Saul, he gave David to be King, to whome hee made promise, that of the fruite of his loynes sould ene sit for ever upon his Regall seat. To this same people from time to time he sent Prophets, to reduce them to the right way of their God: from the quihlk oftentimes they declined, be Idolatry, and albeit that for their stubborne contempt of Justice, he was compelled to give them into the hands of their enemies, as befor was threatned be the mouth of Moses, in sa-meikle that the haly Cirtie was destroyed, the Temple burnt with fire, and the haill Land left desolate the space of lxx. zears: Zit of mercy did he reduce them againe to Jerusalem, where the Cirtie and Temple were reedified, and they against all temptations and assaultes of Sathan did abide, till the Messias came, according to the promise.

6. Of the incarnation of Christ Jesus.

QUHEN The fulnes of time came, God sent his Sonne, his eternall Wisdome, the substance of his awin glory, in this world, quha take the nature of man-head of the substance of woman, to wit, of a Virgine, and that be operation of the holie Ghost: And so was borne the just seede of David, the Angel of the great Counsell of God, the very Messias promised, whome we confesse and acknowledge, Emmanuel, very God and very man, two perfitt natures united, and joyned in one person. Be quihlk our Confessioun we condemne the damnable and pestilent heresies of Arius, Marcion, Eutyches, Nestorius, and sik others, as either did denie the eternitie of his God-head, or the veritie of his humaine nature, or confounded them, or zit devided them.

7. Why it behoved the Mediator to be very God and very Man.

WE Acknowledge and confesse, that this maist wonderous conjunction betwixt the God-head and the man-head in Christ Jesus, did proceed from the eternall and immutable decree of God, from quihlk all our Salvation springs and depends.

8. Election.

FOR that same Eternall God and Father, who of meere grace elected us in Christ Jesus his Sonne, befor the foundation of the world was laide, appointed him to be our head, our Brother, our Pastor, and great Bishop of our fauls. Bor because that the enimitie betwixt the Justice of God and our sins was sik, that na flesh be it selfe culd, or might have attained unto God: It behoved that the Sonne of God sould descend unto us, and take himself a bodie of our bodie, flesh of our flesh, and bone of our bones, and so become the Mediator betwixt God and man, giving power to so many as beleeve in him to be the Sonnes of God, as himselfe dois witnesse. I passe up to my Father, and unto zour Father, to my God, and unto zour God. Be quihlk maist holie fraternitie, quhatsoever wee have tynt in Adam, is restored unto us againe. And for this cause, ar we not affrayed to call God our Father, nor sa-meikle because he hes created us (quihlk we have common with the Reprobate) as for that, that he hes given to us his onely Sonne, to be our Brother, and given unto us grace, to acknowledge and imbrace him for our onlic Mediatour, as before is said. It be-hooved

booyed farther the Messias and Redeemer to be very God, and very man, because he was ro underlie the punishment due for our transgressions, and to present himselfe in the presence of his Fathers Judgement, as in our person, ro suffer for our transgression and inobedience, be death to overcome him that was author of death. Bot because the onely God-head culd nor suffer death, neither zit culd the onlie man-head overcome the famin, he joynted both together in one persone, that the imbecillitie of the ane, suld suffer and be subject to death, (quihilk we had deserved) And the infinit and invincible power of the uther, ro wit, of the God-head; suld triumph and purchesse to us life, libertie and perpetual victory: And so we confesse, and maist undoubtedly beleve.

9. Christ's death, Passion and Burial.

THAT Our Lord Jesus offered himselfe a voluntary Sacrifice unto his Father for us, that he suffered contradiction of sinners, that he was wounded and plagued for our transgressions; rhar hee being the cleane innocent Lamb of GOD, was damned in the presence of ane earthlie Judge, Thar we suld be absolved befor the tribunal feare of our God. That he suffered not onlie the cruel death of the Crosse (quihilk was accounted be the sentence of God) bot also that he suffered for a feason the wrath of his Father, quihilk sinners had deserved. Bot zit we avow that he remained the only well beloved and blessed Sonne of his Father, even in the midst of his anguish and torment, quihilk hee suffered in bodie and saule, to make the full satisfaction for the finnes of the people. After the quihilk we confesse and avow, that there remains na uther Sacrifice for sinne, quihilk gif ony affirme, we nathing doubt to avow, that they ar blasphemous against Christs death, and the everlasting purgation and satisfaction, purchased to us be the same.

WE undoubtedlie beleive, that insameikle as it was impossible; that the dolours of death sulde reitene in bondage the Author of life, that our LORD JESUS crucified, dead and buried, quha descended into Hell, did ryse againe for our Justification, and destroying of him quha wes the Author of death, brocht life againe to us, that wer subject to death, and to the bondage of the same. We know tht his Resurrection, was confirmed be the testimonie of his verie Enemies, be the Resurrection of the dead, quha is Sepultures did open, and they did rise, and appeared to mony, within the Citie of Jerusalem. It was also confirmed be the testimonie of his Angels, and be the senses and Judgements of his Apostles, and of uthers, quha had conversation, and did eate and drink with him, after his Resurrection:

11. Ascension.

WE nathing doubt, bot the self same bodie, quihilk was borne of the Virgine, was crucified, dead, and buried, and quihilk did rise againe, did ascend into the heavens, for the accomplishment of all things: quherein our names, and for our comfort, he hes received all power in heaven and earth, quhere he sittes at the rich hand of the Father inaugurate in his Kingdome, Advocate and onlie Mediator for us. Quihilk Glorie, honour, and prerogative, he alone amonges the Brethren sall possess, till that all his Enemies be made his futehule, as that we undoubtedlie beleve, they sall be in the final Judgement: To the Execution whereof we certainlie beleve, that the same our Lord JESUS sall visiblie returne, as that hee was sene to ascend. And then wee firmly believe, that the time of refreshing and restitution of all things fall cum, in sa-meikle that thir, that fra the beginning have suffered violence, injurie, and wrang, for righteousness sake, sall inherit that blessed immortalitie promised fra the beginning. Bot contrairwise the stubbornes sake, in-obedient, cruel oppressours, filthie personis, Idolaters, and all such sortes of unfaithfull, sall be cast in the dungeoun of utter darkeness, where the worme sall not die, neither zit their fyre sall be extinguished. The remembrance of quihilk day, and of the Judgement to be executed in the same, is not onlie to us ane brydle, whereby our carnal lustes are restrained, bot alswa sik inestimable comfort, that nether may the threatening of worldly Princes; nether zit the feare of temporal death and present danger, move us to renounce and forsake that blessed societie, quihilk we the members have with our head and onlie Mediator CHRIST JESUS; whom we confesse and avow to be the Messias promised, the onlie head of his Kirk, our just Lawgiver, our onlie hie Priest, Advocate, and Mediator. In quihilk honours and offices, gif man or Angel presume to intrude themself, we urther detest and abhorre them; as blasphemous to our Sovraine and supreme Governour CHRIST JESUS.

12. Faith in the holy Ghost.

THIS Our Faith and the assurance of the same, proceeds not fra flesh and blude, that is to say, fra natural powers within us, bot is the inspiration of the holy Ghost: whome we confesse GOD equal with the Father, and with his Sonne, quha sanctifyis us, and brings us in all veritie be his awin operation. without whome we sulde remaine for ever enemies to GOD, and ignorant of his Sonne Christ Jesus. For of nature we are so dead, so blind, and so perverse, that nether can we feill when we ar pricked, nor assent to the will of God when it is revealed, unless the Spirit of the Lord Iesus quicken that quihilk is dead, remove the darknesse from our myndes, and bowe our stubburne hearts to the obedience of his blessed will. And so as we confesse, that God the Father created us, when we were not: as his Sonne our LORD JESUS redeemed us, when we were enemies to him: so also do we confesse that the holy Ghost doth sanctifie and regenerat us, without all respect of ony merite proceeding from us: be it before, or be it after our Regeneration. To speake this one thing zit in maine plaine words: As we willingly spoyle our selves of all honour, and gloir of our awin creation, and redemption: so do we also of our Regeneration and Sanctification: for of our selves we ar not sufficient to think one gude thoct, bot he quaha hes begun the wark in us, is onlie he that continewis us in the same, to the praite and glorie of his un-deserved grace.

14. The cause of gude warkes.

SA That the cause of gude warkes, we confesse to be not our free-will, bot the Spirit of the LORD JESUS, who dwelling in our hearts be trewe faith, bringis furth sik warkes, as God hes prepared for us to walke in. For this wee maist boldelie affirme, that blasphemie it is to say, that Christ abydes in the heartes of sik, as in whome there is no Spirit of sanctification. And therefore we feir not to affirme, that murderers, oppressers, cruell persecuters, adulterers, huremongers, filthy persons, Idolaters, drunkards, thieves, and all workers of iniquity, have nether trewe faith, nether ony portion of the Spirit of the LORD JESUS: so long as obstinatlie they continew in their wickednes. For how soone that ever the Spirit of the Lord Iesus (quihilk Gods elect children receive be trewe faith) taks possession in the heart of ony man, so soone dois he regenerate and renew the same man. So that he beginnis to haite that quihilk before he loved, & begins to love that quihilk before he hated, and fra thine cummis that continuall battell, quihilk is betwixt the flesh and the Spirit in Gods Children: while the flesh and naturall man, according to the awin corruption, lustes for things pleisand and delectable unto the self, and grudges in adversity, is lysted up in prosperitie, and at every moment is prone and reddie to offend the Majestie of God. Bot the Spirit of God, quihilk gives witnessing to our Spirit, that we are the Sonnes of God, makis us to resist filthie pleasures, and to groane in Gods presence, for deliverance fra this bondage of corruption: And finally to triumph over sin, that it reigne not in our mortall bodyis. This battell hes not the camall men, being destitute of Gods Spirit, bot dois follow and obey sinne with greedines, and without repentance, even as the Devill, and their corrupt lustes do prick them. Bot the Sonnes of God, as before wes said, do secht against sinne, do sob and murne, when they perceive themselves tempted in iniquitie: and gif they fall, they rise againe with earnest and unfained repentance, and thir thingis they do not be their awin power, bot be the power of the Lord JESUS, without whom they were able to do nothing.

15. What warkes ar reputed gude befor God.

WE Confesse and acknowledge, that God hes given to man his holy Law, in quihilk not ony ar forbidden all sik warkes as displeis and offend his Godly Majestie, bot also ar commanded all sik as pleis him, and as he hes promised to rewaird. And thir warkes be of twa sortes. The ane are done to the honour of God, the uther to the profite of our Nichtbouris: and both have the reveiled will of God for their assurance. To have ane God, to worship and honour him, to call upon him in all our troubles, reverence his holy name, to heare his word, to beleive the same, to communicate with his holy Sacraments, are the warkes of the first Tabill. To honour Father, Mother, Princes, Rulers, and superiour powers: to love them, to support them, zea to obey their charges (not repugning to the commandment of God) to save the lives of Innocents, to repress tyrannie, to defend the oppressed, to keepe our bodies cleane and halie, to live in sobernes and temperance, to deal justlie with all men both in word and deed: and finally, to repress all appetite of our Nichtbouris hurt, are the gude warkes of the secund Tabill, quihilk are maist pleasing and acceptabil unto God, as the warkes that are commanded be himselfe. The contrary quahirof, is sinne maist odious, quihilk alwayes displeis him, and provokes him to anger: As not to call upon him alone, when we have need, nor to hear his word with reverence, to contemne and despise it, to have or worship Idols, to maintene and defend Idolatrie, lichtlie to esteeme the reverend name of God, to prophane, abuse, or contemne the Sacraments of Christ Iesus, to disobey or resist ony that God hes placed in Authority (quihilk they passe not over the boundes of their office) to murder, or to consent thereto, to beare hatred, or to let Innocent blude be shed, gif wee may withstand it. And finally, the transgression of ony uther commandment in the first or secund Tabill; we confesse and affirme to be sinne, by the quihilk Gods anger and displeasure is kindled against the proud unthankfull world. So that gude warkes we affirme to be thir onie, that are done in faith, and at Gods commandment, quaha in his Lawe hes expressed what the thingis be that pleis him. And evill warkis we affirme not ony thir, that expressly ar done against Gods commandment: bot thir also that in materis of Religion, and worshipping of God, hes na uther assurance bot the inventioun and opinioun of man: quihilk God fra the beginning hes ever rejected, as be the Prophet Ezay, and be our Maister CHRIST JESUS we ar taucht in thir words, In vaine do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the precepts of men.

16. The perfection of the Law, and the imperfection of man.

THE Law of God we confesse and acknowledge maist just, maist equall, maist halie, and maist perfite, commaunding thir things, quhilk being wrocht in perfection, were abill to give life, and abill to bring man to Eternal felicitie. Bot our nature is sa corrupt, sa weake, and sa unperfite, that we ar never abill to fulfill the warkes of the Law in perfection. Zea, gif we say we have na sinne, evin after we ar regenerated, we deceive our selves, and the veritie of God is not in us. And therefore, it behoovis us to apprehend Christ Jesus with his Justice and satisfaction, quha is the end and accomplishment of the Law, be quhome we ar set at this liberty, that the curse and malediction of God fall not upon us, albeit we fulfill not the same in all poyntes. For God the Father beholding us, in the body of his Sonne Christ Jesus, acceptis our imperfite obedience, as it were perfite, and covers our warkes, quhilk ar defyled with mony spots, with the Justice of his Sonne. We do not meane that we ar set at liberty, that wee ave na obedience to the Law (for that before wee have plainly confessed) bot this we affirme, that na man in earth (Christ Jesus onlie except) hes given, gives, or fall give in worke, that obedience to the Law, quhilk the Law requiris. Bot when we have done all things, we must fall downe and unfeinedly confesse, that we are unprofitable servants. And therefore, quhosever boastis themselves of the merits of their awin works, or put their trust in the works of Supererogation, boast themselves in that, quhilk is nocht, and put their trust in damnable Idolatry.

17. Of the Kirk.

AS We believe in ane God, Father, Sonne, and halie Ghaist: sa do we maist constantly believe, that from the beginning there hes bene, and now is, and to the end of the world fall be, ane Kirk, that is to say, ane company and multitude of men chofen of God, who richtly worship and imbrace him, be trow faith in Christ Jesus, quha is the only head of the same Kirk, quhilk als wa is the bodie and spouse of Christ Jesus, quhilk Kirk is Catholike, that is, universall, because it continis the Elect of all ages, of all Realmes, Nations, and Tounes, be they of the Jewes, or be they of the Gentiles, quha have communion & societie with God the Father, and with his Son Christ Jesus, throw the sanctificatioun of his haly Spirit, and therefore is it called the Communion, not of prophane persons, bot of Sanctis, quha as citizenis of the heavenly Jerusalem, have the fruitioun of the maist inestimable benefites, to wit, of ane God, ane LORD JESUS, ane Faith, and ane Baptisme: out of the quhilk Kirk, there is nouthier lyfe, nor Eternal felicitie. And therefore we utterly abhorre the blasphemie of them that affirme, that men quhilk live according to equitie and Justice, fall be saved, quhat Religioun that ever they have professed. For as without CHRIST JESUS, there is nouthier life nor Salvation: so fall there nane be participant thereof, bot sik as the Father hes given unto his Sonne CHRIST JESUS, and they that in time cum unto him, avowe his doctrine and beleve into him, (we comprehend the Children with the faithfull parentes) this Kirk is invisible, knawen onlie to God, quha alane knawis whom he hes chofen, and comprehends alswieill (as said is) the Elect that be departed, commonlie called the Kirk Triumphant, and they that zit live and fecht against sin and Sathan, as they that fall live hereafter.

Sa that neither are the ane nor the uthir in sik sleepe, that they feele not their torment, as the Parable of Christ Jesus in the 16. of Luke, his words to the thiefe, and thir wordes of the faules crying under the Altar: O Lord, thou that art righteous and just, How lang fall thou not revenge our blude upon thir that dwellis in the Earth, dois declar.

19. Of the notes, be the quibilk the ired Kirk is decerned fra the false, and quha fall be Judge of the doctrine.

BECAUSE That Sathan from the beginning, hes laboured to deck his pestilent Synagoge with the title of the Kirk of GOD, and hes inflamed the heartes of cruell murtherers, to persecute, trouble and molest, the trowe Kirk, and members thereof, as Cain did Abel, Ismael Isaac, Eseaw Jacob, and the haill Priesthead of the Jewes; Christ Jesus himselfe, and his Apostles after him. It is ane thing maist requisite, that the true Kirk be decerned fra the filthy Synagogues. be cleare and perfite nores, least we being deceived, receive and imbrace to our awin condemnatoun, the ane for the uthir. The nores, signes, and assured takens, whereby the immaculate Spouse of Christ Jesus is knawen fra the horrible harlot, the Kirk Malignant: We affirme are neither Antiquitie, Title usurped, Lineal descent, place appoynted, nor Multitude of men approving ane error: for Cain in age and title was preferred to Abel and Setb: nor Jerusalem had prerogative above all places of the Earth, where also were the Priestes lineally descended fra Aaron, And greater number followed the Scribes, Pharises, and Priestes, then unfainedly belceved and approved Christ Jesus and his doctrine: and zit as we suppose, no man of sound Judgement, will grant that ony of the forenamed, were the Kirk of God. The notes therefore of the trew Kirk of God, we beleve, confesse and avow to be, first the trew preaching of the word of God, unto the quhilk God hes revealed himselfe unto us, as the writings of the Prophets and Apostles dois declair. Secondly, the right administration of the Sacraments of Christ Jesus, quhilk mon be annexed unto the word and promise of God, to seale and confirme the same in our hearts. Last, Ecclesiastical discipline uprightlie ministred, as God his word prescribes, whereby vice is repressed, and vertew nursed. Wherefoever then thir former notes are scene, and of ony time continue (be the number never so fewe about two or three) there without all doubt is the trew Kirk of Christ: who according unto his promise, is in the midst of them. Nor that universal, of quhilk we have before spoken, bot particular, sik as was in Corinthus, Galatia, Ephesus, and other places, in quhilk the Ministrie was plantred by Paul, and were of himselfe named the Kirks of God: and sik Kirks, we the inhabitantis of the Realme of SCOTLAND, professors of Christ Jesus, professis ourselfis to have in our Citties, Townes, and places reformed, for the doctrine taucht in our Kirks, contained in the written worde of God, to wit, in the buiks of the auld, and new Testaments, in those buiks we meane, quhilk of the ancient have bene reputed canonical. In the quhilk we affirme, that all thingis necessary to be beleved, for the salvation of man-kinde, is sufficiently expressed. The interpretation quhair of, we confesse, neither appertaines to private, nor publick persone, neither zit to ony Kirk, for ony preheminance, or prerogative personallie or localle, quhilk ane hes above ane uther, bot appertaines to the Spirite of God, be the quhilk also the Scripture was written. When controversie then happinis, for the right understanding of ony place or sentence of Scripture, or for the reformation of ony abuse within the Kirk of God, we ought not fa-meikle to like what men before us have said or done, as unto that quhilk the haly Ghaist uniformelic speakes, within the body of the Scriptures, and unto that quhilk Christ Jesus himselfe did, and commanded to be done. For this is ane thing universallie granted, that the Spirite of God, quhilk is the Spirite of Unitie, is in nathing contrarious unto himselfe. Gif then the interpretation, determination, or sentence of ony Doctor, Kirk, or Councell, repugne to the plaine worde of God, written in ony uther placé of the Scripture, it is a thing maist certaine, that there is not the true understanding and meaning of the haly Ghaist, although that Councils, Realmes, and Nations have approved and received the same: For we darenot receive nor admit ony interpretation, quhilk repugnes to ony principal poynt of our faith, or to ony uther plaine text of Scripture, or zit unto the rule of charitie.

20. The authoritie for the Scriptures.

AS We beleve and confesse the Scriptures of God sufficient to instruct, and make the man of God per-site: so do we affirme, and avow the authoritie of the same, to be of God, and nether to depend on men, nor Angels. Wee affirme therefore, that sik as allege the Scripture, to have na uther authoritie, bot that quhilk it hes received from the Kirk, to be blasphemous against God, and injurious to the trew Kirk, quhilk alwayes heares and obeyis the voyce of her awin spouse and Pastor, bot takes not upon her to be Maistres over the famin.

21. Of general Councils, of their Power, Authoritie, and cause of their Convention.

AS We do not rashlie damne that quhilk godly men assembled together in generall Council lawfully gathered, have proponed unto us, so without just examination, dare we not receive quhairfoever is obrudged unto us by men under the name of general Councils: for plaine it is, as they wer men, so have some of them manifestlie erred, and that in matters of great weight and importaunce. So farre then, as the Council previs the determination and commandment that it gives, bee the plaine worde of God: so soone do we reverence and embrace the same. Bot gif men under the name of a Councell, pretend to forge unto us, new Articleles of our faith, or to make constitutionis repugning to the word of God: then utterlie we must refuse the same, as the doctrine of Devils, quhilk drawis our faules from the voyce of our oilie God, to follow the doctrines and constitutiones of men. The cause then quhy that generall Councils convened, was nether to make ony perpetual Law, quhilk God before had not maid, nether zit to forge new Articleles of our beleife, nor to give the word of God authoritie, meikle les to make that to be his word, or zit the trew interpretation of the same, quhilk was not before, be his haly will, expressed in his word: bot the cause of Councils (we meane of sik as merite the name of Councils) was partlie for confutation of heresies, and for giving publick confession of their faith, to the posterite following, quhilk baith they did by the authoritie of Gods written word; and not by ony opinion or prerogative, that they culd not erre, be reason of their general assemble: And this we judge to have bene the chiefe cause of general Councils. The uther was for gude policie and ordour, to be constitute and observed in the Kirk, quhilk (as in the house of God) it be-cummis all thingis to be done decently and in ordour. Nor that we think, that any policie, and an ordour in Ceremonies, can be appoynted for all ages, times and places: for as ceremonies, sik as men have devised, ar bot temporal: so may and aucht they to be changed, when they rather foster superstition, then that they edifie the Kirk, using the same.

22. Of the Sacramentes.

AS The Fatheris under the Law, besides the veritie of the Sacrifices, had twa chiefe Sacramentes, to wit, Circumcision, and the Passe-over, the despisers and contemners whereof, were not reputed of Gods people: so do we acknowledge and confesse, that we now in the time of the Evangell, have twa chiefe Sacramentes, onelie instituted be the Lord Jesus, & commanded to be used of all they, that will be reputed members of his body: To wit, Baptisme, and the supper or Table of the Lord Jesus, called the Communion of his body and blude. And thir Sacramentes alsweill of auld, as of new I estament, now instituted of God, not onelie to make ane visible difference, betwixt his people, and they that was without his league: but also to exerce the faith of his Children, and be participation of the same Sacramentes, to seill in their hearts the assurance of his promise, and of that most blessed conjunctioun, union and societie, quhilk the elect have with their head Christ Jesus. And thus wee utterlie damne the vanitie of they, that affirme Sacramentes to be nothing else bot naked and baire signes. No, wee assuredlie beleeve, that be Baptisme, we ar ingrafted in Christ Jesus, to be made partakers of his Justice, be quhilk our sinnes ar covered and remitted. And alsua, that in the Supper richtlie used, CHRIST JESUS is so joynd with us, that hee becummis very nourishment and fude of our faules. Not that we magine anie transubstantiatioun of Bread into Christes body, and of Wine into his naturall blude, as the Papisfes have perniciouslie taucht, and damnable beleeved: bot this unioin and conjunctioun, quhilk we have with the body and blude of Christ Jesus in the richt use of the Sacraments, is wrocht be operatioun of the haly Ghaist, who by trew faith carrys us above all things that are visible, carnall, and earthly, and makes us to feede upon the body and blude of Christ Jesus, quhilk wes anes broken and shed for us, quhilk now is in heaven, and appears in the presence of his Father for us: And zit notwithstanding the far distance of place, quhilk is betwixt his body, now glorified in Heaven, and us now mortall in this earth: zit we man assuredlie beleeve, that the bread quhilk we break, is the communion of Christes bodie, and the cupe quhilk we blesse, is the communion of his blude. So that we confesse, and undoubtedlie believe, that the faithfull in the richt use of the Lords Table, do fo eat the bodie and drinke the blude of the Lord Jesus, that he remains in them, and they in him. Zea, they are so maid flesch of his flesh, and bone of his bones, that as the eternall God-head hes given to the flesch of Christ Jesus (quhilk of the awin condition and nature wes mortall and corruptible) lite and immortalitie: so dois Christ Jesus his flesh and blude eatin and drun kin be us, give unto us the same prerogatives. Quhilk albeit we confesse, ar nether given unto us at that time onelie, nether zit be the proper power and vertue of the Sacrament onelie: zit we affirme that the faithfull, in the richt use of the Lords Table, hes conjunctioun with Christ Jesus: as the naturall man cannot apprehend: zea, and farther wee affirme, that albeit the faithfull oppressed be negligence, and namelie infirmitie, dois not profite fameikle, as they wald, in the verie instant action of the Supper: zit fall it after bring frute forth, as livelie seid fawin in gude ground. For the haly Spirit, quhilk can never be divided fra the richt institutioun of the Lord Jesus, will not fruttrat the faithfull of the fruit of that mysticall action, bot all thir we say cummis of trew faith, quhilk apprehendis Christ Jesus; who only makis this Sacrament effectuall unto us. And therefore whosoever sclanders us, as that we affirme or belevis Sacraments to be naked and bair Signes, do injurie unto us, and speaks against the manifest truth. Bot this liberallie and franklie wee confesse, that we make ane distinctioun betwixt Christ Jesus in his eternall substance, and betwixt rhe Elements of the Sacramental Signes. So that wee will nether worship the Signes, in place of that quhilk is signified be them, nether zit doe we despise and interpret them, as unprofitable and vaine, bot do use them with all reverence, examining our selves diligentlie, before that so we do. Because we are assured be the mouth of the Apostle, that sik as eat of that bread, and drink of that cupe unworthelie, are guiltie of the bodie and blude of Christ Jesus.

23. Of the richt administratioun of the Sacramentes.

THAT Sacraments be richtlie ministrat, we Judge twa things requisite: The ane, that they be ministrat be lauchfull Ministers, whom we affirme to be onely they, that ar appointed to the preaching of the word, into quahais mowthes God hes put sum Sermon of exhortation, they being men lauchfullie chosen thereto be sum Kirk. The uther, that they be ministrat in sik elements, and in sik fort, as God hes appointed, else we affirme that they cease to be the richt Sacraments of Christ Jesus. And therefore it is, that we sly the doctrine of the Papisficall Kirk, in participation of their Sacraments: first, because their Ministers are na Ministers of Christ Jesus, zea (quhilk is mair horrible) they suffer wemen, whome the haly Ghaist will not suffer to teache in the Congregatioun, to Baptize: and secundly, because they have so adulterated both the one Sacrament and the uther, with their awin inventions, that no part of Christs action abydes in the originall puritie. For Oyle, Salt, Spittil, and sik-lyke in Baptisme, ar bot mennis inventions. Adoration, Veneration, bearing throw streitis and townes, and keiping of bread in boxes or buistes, ar phanatioun of Christs Sacraments, and na use of the same. For Christ Jesus saide, Take, eat &c. do ze this in remembrance of me. Be quhilk word and charge, he sanctified bread and wine, to the Sacrament of his halie bodie and blude, to the end, that the ane suld be eaten, and that all suld drinke of the uther, and of that thay suld be keiped to be worshipped and honoured, as God, as the Papisfes have done heirtofore. Who also committed Sacrilege, steilling from the people the ane parte of the Sacrament, to wit, the blessed blesſed cupe. Moreover, that the Sacraments be rightly uſed, it is required, that the end and cauſe, why the Sacraments were inſtitute, be underſtand and obſerved, alſweill of the Miniſter, as of the receivers. For gif the opinion be changed in the receiver, the right uſe ceaſſis, quihik is maiſt evident, be the rejection of the Sacrifice, as alſo gif the teacher plainly teache ſals doctrine, quihik were odious and abhominable before God (albeit they were his awin ordinance) becauſe that wicked men uſe them to an uther end, then God hes ordained. The ſame affirme we of the Sacraments in the Papiſticall Kirk: in quihik we affirme the hail action of the Lord Jeſus to be aduiterated, alſweill in the externall forme, as in the end and opinion. Quhat Chriſt Jeſus did, and commanded to be done, is evident, be the Evangeliftes, and be Saint Paul: quhat the Preiſt dois at his Altar, we neid not to rehearſe. The end and cauſe of Chriſts inſtitution, and why the ſelſe ſame ſuld be uſed, is expreſſed in thir words, Doe ze this in remembrance of me, and oft as ze fall eat of this bread, and drinke of this Cupe, ze fall ſhaw furth, that is, extol, preach, magnifie, and praife the Lords death, till he cum. Bot to quhat end, and in what opinioun the Prieſtes ſay their Meſſe, let the worde of the ſame, their awin Doctouris and wrytings witnes. To wit, that they, as Mediatores betuixt Chriſt, and his Kirk, do offer unto God the Father, a Sacrifice propitiatorie, for the Sinnes of the quick and the dead. Quihik doctrine, as blaſphemous to Chriſt Jeſus, and making derogation to the ſufficiencie of his only Sacrifice, once offered for purgation of all they that fall be ſanctified, we utterlly abhorre, deteſt and renounce.

24. To whome Sacraments appertaine.

WE Confeſſe and acknowledge, that Baptiſme apperteinis alſweill to the infants of the faithfull, as unto them that be of age and diſcretion, and ſo we damne the error of the Anabaptiſts, who denies baptiſme to appertaine to Children, before that they have faith and underſtanding: bot the Supper of the Lord, we confeſſe to appertaine to ſik onely, as be of the houſhold of Faith, and can trie and examine themſelves, alſweill in their faith, as in their dewtie towards their Nichtbouris. Sik as eate and drink at that haly Table without faith, or being at diſſention and diſuſion with their Brethren; do eat unworthelie: And therefore it is that in our Kirk, our Miniſters take publick and particular examination, of the knowlege and converſation of ſik, as are to be admitted to the Table of the Lord Jeſus.

25. Of the Civill Magiſtrate.

WE Confeſſe and acknowledge Emphytes, Kingdomes, Dominions, and Cities, to be diſtincted and obtained be God: the powers and authoritie in the ſame, be it of Emperours in their Emphytes, of Kings in their Realmes, of Dukes and Princes in their Dominions, and of uthers Magiſtrates in the Cities, to be Gods haly ordinance, ordained for manifeſtation of his awin glory, and for the ſingular profite and commoditie of mankind: So that whoſoever goeth about to take away, or to confound the hail ſtate of Civile policies, now long eſtabliſhed: we affirme the ſame men, nor onely to be enimies to mankinde, bur alſo wickedly to ſecht againſt God his expreſſed will. Wee farther confeſſe and acknowledge, that ſik perfourns, as are placed in authoritie, ar to be loved, honoured, feared, and halden in moſt reverent eſtimation: becauſe that they are the Lieutenents of God, in whoſe Selliſions, God himſelf dois ſit, and Judge: zea, even the Judges and Princes themſelves, to whom be God is given the ſword, to the praife and deſenſe of gude men, and to revenge and puniſh all open malefactors. Maitover to Kings, Princes, Rulers and Magiſtrates. wee affirme that chieflie and moſt principallie rhe conſervation and purgation of the Religious appertaines, ſo that not onlie they are appointed for Civill policie, bot alſo for maintenance of the trew Religioun, and for ſuppreſſing of Idolatrie and Superſtitious whatſoever. As in David, Joſaphat, Ezechias, Joſias, and uthers highlie commended for their zeale in that caice, may be eſpyed. And therefore wee confeſſe and avow, that ſik as reſiſt the ſupreme power, doing that thing quihik appertains to his charge, do reſiſt God his ordinance: And therefore cannot be guiltles. And farther we affirme, that whoſoever denies unto them ayde, their Counſell and comfort, quihies the Princes and Rulers vigilantly travell in execution of their office, that the ſame men deny their help, ſupport and Counſell to God, quaha be the preſence of his Lieu-tennent, dots crave it of them.

26. The giſtes freeлие given to the Kirk.

ALBEIT That the word of God trewly preached, and the Sacraments richtlie miſtred, and Diſcipline executed, according to the word of God, be the certaine and infallible Signes of the trew Kirk, we meane not that everie particular perſon joynd with ſik company, be an Elect member of CHRIST JESUS: For we acknowledge and confeſſe, that Dornell, Cockell, and Caſſe, may be ſawen, grow, and in great abundance lie in the miſt of the Wheat, that is, the Reprobate may be joynd in the ſocietie of the Elect, and may externally uſe with them the benefites of the word and Sacraments. Bot ſik being bot temporall profeſſours in mouth, bot not in heart, do fall backe and continew not to the end. And therefore have they na fruite of Chriſts death, Reſurrection, nor Aſcenſion: bot ſik as with heart unfainedly beleeve, and with mouth bauldely confeſſe the Lord Jeſus, as before we have ſaid, fall moſt aſſuredly receive thir giſtes. Firſt in this liſe remiſſion of finnes, and that be onely faith in Chriſts blude.

In fameikle, that albeit sinne remaine and continuallie abyde, in thir our mortall bodies, zit it is not imputed unto us, bot is remitted, and covered with Christs Justice. Secundly, in the generall Judgement, there fall be given to every man and woman resurrection of the flesh. For the Sea sail give her dead; the Earth they that therein be inclosed, zea the Eternal our God fall stretche out his hand on the dust, and the deade fall arise uncorruptible, and that in the substance of the selfe same flesh that every man now beiris, to receive according to their workes, glory, or punishment. For sik as now delyte in vauity, cruelty, filthyynes, superstition; or Idolatry, fall be adjudged to the fire unquenecheable. In quihilk they fall be tormented for ever, allswell in their awin bodyes, as in their saules, quihilk now they give to serve the Devill in all abhominacion. Bot sik as continew in weill doing to the end, bauidely profesing the Lord Jesus: we constantly beleeve, that they fall receive glorie, honour, and immortality, to reigne for ever in life everlasting, with Christ Jesus, to whose glorified body all his Elect, fall be made lyke, when he fall appeit againe in Judgement, and fall rander up the Kingdome to God his Father, who then fall bee, and ever fall remaine all in all things God blessed for ever. To whome with the Sonne, and with the haly Ghaist, be all honour and glorie, now and ever. So be it.

Thir Acts and Artickles ar red in the face of Parliament, and ratified be the three Estaitis, At Edin-burgh the 17. day of August, the zeir of God 1560. zeiris.

5. Auent the Messe abolished, and punishing of all that bear is or sayis the samin.

ITEM, Our Sovereine Lord, with advise of his dearest Regent, and the three Estaitis of this Parliament ratifis and approves the Act under written, maid in the Parliament halden at Edinburgh the 23. day of August, the zeir 1560. zeiris. And of new in this present Parliament statuis and ordainis, the said Act to be as an perpetuall Law, to all our Sovereine Lords lieges in all times to cum; Of the quihilk, the tenour followes. The quihilk day, for sameikle as almichty God be his maist trew and blessed word, hes declared the reverence, and honour quihilk suld be given unto him. And be his Sonne JESUS CHRIST hes declared the trew use of the Sacraments, willing the same to be used, according to his will and word. Be quihilk it is notour, and perfitelie knawen, that the Sacraments of Baptisme, and of the Bodie and Blend of JESUS CHRIST, hes bene in all times by-past corrupted, be the Papistick Kirk, and be their usurped Ministers. And presentlie, notwithstanding the reformatioun already made, according to Gods word: Zit there is sum of the said Papist Kirk, that stubbumely prefeveris in their wicked Idolatrie, sayand Messe, and Baptizand, conforme to the Papist Kirk, prophand and therethrow the Sacraments soirsafdes, in quiet and secreete places, therethrow nouthir regardand God, nor his word. T H E R E F O I R E, It is statute and ordained in this present Parliament, that na maner of persoun, or persounis, in onie time cumming, administrat ony of the Sacraments soirsafdes, secretly, or ony uthir maner of way, but they that are admitted, and havand power to that effect. And that na maner of persoun nor persounis, say Messe, nor zit hear Messe, nor be present therat, under the paine of confiscatioun of all their gudis movabill, and unmovabill, and punishing of their bodyes at the discretioun of the Magistrat, within quhais Jurisdiction sik personnis happinnis to be apprehended, for the first fault. Banishment of the Realme, for the second fault: And Justifying to the death, for the thrid fault. And ordainis all Schireffes, Stewards, Baillies, and their deputies, Provestes, and Baillies of Burrowes, and uthers Judges quhatsumever, within this Realme, to take diligent sute and inquisition, within their bounds, quhair ony sik usurped Ministerie is used, Messe saying, or they that beis present at the doing thereof, ratifyand, and approovand the samin, take and apprehend them, to the effect, that the paines above written may be execute upon them. And therefore of new decernis, and ordaines the contraveners of the samin, in ony tyme heirafter, to be punished according to the paines of the foresaid Acte above reheard.

6. Auent the trew and haly Kirk, and of them that ar declared not to be of the samin.

ITEM, For sameikle as the Ministers of the blessed Evangell of JESUS CHRIST whom God of his mercie hes now raised up amangst us, or heirafter fall raise, agreeing with them that now livis, in doctrine and administratioun of the Sacraments, and the peopill of this Realme, that profess CHRIST, as he now is offered in his Evangell, and do communicat with the haly Sacraments (as in the reformed Kirkes of this Realme they are publickly administrat) according to the Confessioun of the Faith: Our Sovereine Lord, with advise of my Lord Regent, and three Estaitis of this present Parliament, hes declared, and declaris, the foresaid persones, to be the onely true and haly Kirk of JESUS CHRIST Within this Realme. And decernis and declaris, that all and findric, quha outhir gainfayis the word of the Evangell, received and approved, as the heades of the Confessioun of Faith professed in Parliament before, in the zeir of God 1560. zeiris, as also specified in the Actes of this Parliament mair particularlie dois expresse, and now ratified and approved in this present Parliament, or that refusis the participatioun of the halie Sacramentes, as they are now Ministrat, To be na members of the said Kirke, within this Realme now presently professed, sa long as they keep themselves sa divided fra the Society of Christs Bodie.

7. Admission of Ministers: of laick Patronages.

ITEM, It is statute, and ordained be our Sovereine Lord, with advise of his dearest Regent, and three Estaitis of this present Parliament, that the examination and admission of Ministers, within this Realme, be only in the power of the Kirk, now openlie, and publickly professed within the samin. The presentation of laick Patronages alwaies reserved to the Just and auncient Patrones. And that the Patroun present ane qualified person, within sex Monethes (after it may cum to his knowledge, of the decease of him, quha bruiked the Benefice before) to the Superintendent of thay partis, quhair the Benefice lyes, or others havand commission of the Kirk to that effect; utherwaies the Kirk to have power to dispone the samin to ane qualified person for that time.

PROVIDING that in caise the Patroun present ane person qualified to his understanding, and failing of ane, ane uther within the said sex Moneths, and the said Superintendent or Commissioner of the Kirk, refusis to receive and admit the person presented be the Patroun, as said is: It fall be lesum to the Patroun to appeal to the Superintendent, and Ministers of that Province quhair the Benefice lyes, and desire the person presented to be admitted, quhilke gif they refuse, to appeal to the generall Assëmbly of this hailie Realme, be quhome the cause beand decyded, fall take end, as thay decerne and declair.

8. Auent the Kingis aith, to be given at his Coronation.

ITEM, Because that the increafe of vertew, and suppressing of Idolatrie craves, that the Prince and the people be of ane persite Religiou, quhilke of Gods mercie is now presently professed within this Realme: THEREFORE It is statute, and ordained be our Sovereine Lord, my Lord Regent, and the three Estaites of this present Parliament, that all Kinges and Princes, or Magistrates whatsoever, holding their place, quhilkis hereafter in any time fall happen to reigne, and beare rule over this Realme, at the time of their Coronatioun, and receipt of their Princely authoritie, make their faithfull promise be aith, in presence of the Eternall God, That induring the hailie cours of their lives, they fall serve the samin Eternall God, to the uttermost of their power, according as he hes required in his maist haly word, reveiled and contained in the new and auld Testaments. And according to the samin worde fall mainteine the trew Religion of Christ Jesus, the preaching of his halie word, and dew and richt ministratioun of the Sacraments now received, and preached within this Realme: And fall abolish and gainstand all fals Religiou contrare to the samin: And fall rule the peopill committed to their charge, according to the will and command of God, reveiled in his foresaid word, and according to the lovabill Lawes, and constitutions received in this Realme, na wise repugnant to the said word of the Eternall God. And fall procure to the uttermaist of their power, to the Kirk of God; and hail Christian peopill, trew and persite peace in all time cumming. The richtis and rentis, with all just priviledges of the Crowne of SCOTLAND, to preserve and keip inviolated, nouthier fall they transfer nor alienate the samin. They fall forbid and repress in all Estaites, and degriès, reise, oppression, and all kinde of wiang. In all judgements, they fall command, and procure that Justice and equitie be kept to all creatures, without exception, as the Lord and Father of all mercycis, be mercifull to them. And out of their landes and Empyre, they fall be carefull to rute out all herenikes, and enimies to the trew worship of God, that fall be conviet be the trew Kirk of God, of the foirsaidis crymes. And that they fall faithfullie affirme the things above written, be their solemnè aith.

And gif they failzie, Ec. To denunce Ec. And gif neede beis, to poynd and distreinzie The clericis.

therefore, as they thinke maist meete and expedient, alwaies declaris that the production of sufficient hornings, against the said sewars and vassalles, shall be anc reliefe to the saidis Prelates: And shall exoner them pro tanto, fra the payment of the said taxation.

Fewares, tackef-men, Pensioners, life-renters, and vassalles AND Furder, that the saidis Prelates, and others benefited persones, may have their reliefe of their saidis vassalles, fewares, tackef-men, and pensioners, to their greater ease, and lesse trouble, to their saidis vassalles, and others foresaidis, And to the effect that everie man proportionally, may pay his part of the said taxation, according to the quantitie and avails of the free rente that he hes of his landes and teind scheaves, pertaining to him, alswell the Prelate himselfe, as the sewar or tackef-man: It is thoct expedient, statute and ordained, that the saidis Prelates, shall everie one of them severallie convene his hail fewares, vassalles, and tackef-men, at sik convenient place as hee thinkis meetest: And cause summound them personallie, or at their dwelling places, for that effect: And being convened, the saidis Prelates and benefited persones, shall schaw to their saidis vassalles, the quantitie of the taxation imposed upon them, and they with an consent, shall distribut the samin to be payed be everie man. Alswell be the Prelate, as be the vassall, sewar, tackef-man, and pensioner, according to the great or small quantitie of his free rents, that he hes either of his landes, teindes, or pension, with certification to ony of the saidis persones, fewares, vassalles, pensioners, and others foresaidis, that compeiris not at the day appoynted, to the effect foresaid, that sik as shall compeir with the said Prelate and benefited person, shall procede in the equal distribution of the said taxt, alswell among them that ar present, as the absentis quhilk shall be als lauchfull in all respects, as gif the hail number were convened. AND als it is thoct expedient, statute and ordained, that all erections of onie Prelacies in Temporal Lord-shippes, shall in the payment of this present taxation, pay to the Collectours of the said taxation, sa-meikle of this present taxation, pro rata, as gif they were nawaie erected, and as they were subject to do, before the erection of the samin, with special provision alwaies, that this shall be na preparative of the like hereafter. Bot that in all time cumming, their saidis erections, shall pay the taxations, to be hereafter imposed, as uther Temporal livings within this Realme: And this nawaies to prejudice or derogate in onie waies to their saidis erections.

Benefices dissolved.

AND Sik-like, it is statute and ordained, that all dissolved benefices within this Realme, shall be subject in payment of sameikle of the said taxation, pro rata, as they would have bene subject to give, swa the samin had not bene dissolved: And therefore, that letters be direct charging the present possessour of the saidis dissolved benefices, everie one of them for their awin partes, to pay proportionallie their parte of the said taxation, to the quantitie that the samin benefice would have bene taxt to, gif the samin benefice had not bene dissolved, as said is, within twentie daies nixt after they be charged thereto, under the paine of rebellion &c. And gif they failzie &c.

Benefices vaikand.

AND Sik-like, because that at this present, there ar findrie Prelacies vaikand, undissolved, to onie person or persones quhar-sum-ever: Therefore it is statute and ordained, that the said Collectour Generall, shall use the like forme be himselfe, or some uther sufficient qualified person in his name, with the fewares, vassalles, and tackef-men of the saidis vaikand benefices, that is prescribed and set downe before, to be done be the Prelates, and uthers benefited men, in the distributing of the said taxation, as said is: And the saidis Estaites authorizis the saide Collectour generall, of this present taxation, in the verie place of anc provided Prelate to the saidis vaikand benefices, for this effect allanely. AND for the Bar-ronnes and Free-holders part of the said taxation, that letters be direct, chargeing all and findrie Schitrefis, Stewards, Baillies, their deputies and Clerks, that they, and ilk one of them, within the boundes of their offices, raise and up-lift the summe of 40. shillings, of everie pound land of auld extent, lyand within the boundes of their jurisdiction and in-bring and deliver the same to the said Collectour generall, beuixt and the xv. day of March, quhilk is the terme of payment of the said taxation, under the paine of rebellion &c. And for their reliefe, that letters be direct, chargeing all and findrie Earles, Lotdes, Barronnes, and Free-holders, to make payment and deliverance to the saidis Schireffes, Stewards, Baillies, and their deputies and Clerks, ilk one of them for their awin partes, for the summe particularie abone written, of everie pound land of auld extent, pertaining to them, As for the said taxation, within xx. daies nixt after they be charged, under the paine of rebellion, &c. And gif they failzie &c. to denunce &c. and to escheit. Or else, that the saidis Schireffes, Stewards, Baillies and their deputies poynd and distreinzie therefore: As they fail thinke maist meete and expedient: And that the saidis Earles, Lordes, Barronnes, and Free-holders, have sik-like letters for their reliefe, against their vassalles, sub-vassalles, Ladies of Terce, conjunct-feares, and life-renters.

The Bar-ronnes and Free-holders.

AND Because there ar diverse and findrie Barronnies, within this Realme, dismembred, and the Bar-ronnes of the saidis Barronnies in time by-gane, hes had na reliefe pro tanto, of sa-meikle of the said Bar-ronnie, as wes dis-membred, against all reason, seeing that the Schitrefe, Steward, or Baillie, or their deputies, without onie regard, charged the present Bar-ronnie, of the saide Bar-ronnie, for the hail taxation of the samin, as gif na part thereof were dis-membred: Therefore it is statute and ordained, that all sik partes of onie Bar-ronnie, as ar dis-membred therefra, shall be retoured be the Schireffe of the Schire, quhair the samin lyes, to the avails and quantitie proportional, of the hail Bar-ronnie: And being retoured, the said Bar-ronnie shall have letters of reliefe, against the heretoures of the said dis-membred part of the Bar-ronnie for relieving of him, of sa-meikle of the said taxation, as the samin landes shall be retoured unto, be the Schireffe, within twentie dayes nixt after the charge, under the paine of rebellion &c. And gif they failzie &c. To denunce &c.

Barronnies dissolved or dis-membred.

AND Because there ar diverse and findrie Barronnies, within this Realme, dismembred, and the Bar-ronnes of the saidis Barronnies in time by-gane, hes had na reliefe pro tanto, of sa-meikle of the said Bar-ronnie, as wes dis-membred, against all reason, seeing that the Schitrefe, Steward, or Baillie, or their deputies, without onie regard, charged the present Bar-ronnie, of the saide Bar-ronnie, for the hail taxation of the samin, as gif na part thereof were dis-membred: Therefore it is statute and ordained, that all sik partes of onie Bar-ronnie, as ar dis-membred therefra, shall be retoured be the Schireffe of the Schire, quhair the samin lyes, to the avails and quantitie proportional, of the hail Bar-ronnie: And being retoured, the said Bar-ronnie shall have letters of reliefe, against the heretoures of the said dis-membred part of the Bar-ronnie for relieving of him, of sa-meikle of the said taxation, as the samin landes shall be retoured unto, be the Schireffe, within twentie dayes nixt after the charge, under the paine of rebellion &c. And gif they failzie &c. To denunce &c.

AND Furder, It is statute and ordained, that all the Stewardes and Baillies of onie part of his Hiennes propertie, fall with all convenient expedition, cause retour the hail landes of the famin, everie ane within his awin boundes and jurisdiction, and that to the famin availe, quantitie and proporrion, as onie urher landes lyand nixt adjacent to the same, halden of his Majestie, ar fet or retoured to: having neverthelesse ane speciall regard to the free-rent, that the sewars and rentallers hes of the same lands, beside their few-fermes and dewties payed be them, to our Sovereaine Lord: Quhilks landes being retoured, as said is: It is ordained that letters be direct be the said Collectour of this present taxation, charging the saidis Stewardes and Baillies, to raise and up-lift the summe of fourtie shillings of evcrie pound lande, that his said Hiennes propertie fall be retoured to, everie ane within his awin jurisdiction, and in-bring and deliver the same to the said Collectour, betwixt and the said fiftenth day of March nixt-to-cum, under the paine of rebellion, &c. And gif they failzie, &c. to denounce, &c. And for their reliefe, that letters be direct, charging all and sundrie sewars, rentallers, tennents, and tacke-men of his Hiennes propertie, to make payment and delivrance to the saids sewars, Baillies, their deputies and Clerkes, ilk ane of them for their awin partes, the summe particularlie abone written, for everie pound land, that their saidis landes fall be stented or retoured to, within xx. dayes, nixt after the charge, under the paine of rebellion &c. And gif they failzie, &c. To denounce &c. And gif need beis, that the saids Stewards and Baillies poynd and distreinzie therefore, as they fall think maist meete and expedient. And because his Majesties propertie hereof, hes nawayes bene in use and consuetude of payment of ony part of ony taxations granted heretofore, nether did they relieve the reste of the Lieges, of ony parte of the famin. His Hiennesse and Estaites foresaidis, thinkis it maist meete and expedient, that the said taxation to be up-lifted fra the saidis sewars, tennentes and tacke-men, of his Hiennesse propertie, fall be na-wayes accompted nor allowed in part of the said summe of twa hundredth thousand markes; bot the famin summe to be up-lifted, according to the division abone written: And the summes to be up-lifted of the landes of his Hiennesse propertie, to be maid compt of be the said Collectour, over and beside the summe of twa hundredth thousand markes, granted, as said is: Providing alwayes that the famin be na-wayes employed nor betowed to ony use quhat-sum-ever, except to the famin effect that the utter great summe abone written.

AND For in-bringing of the Burrowes part of the said taxation, that letters be direct, charging the Provest and Baillies of ilk Burgh, to make payment of the taxe and stent thereof, to the saidis Collectour generall, at the time abone specified, under the paine of rebellion &c. And gif they failzie &c. To denounce &c. And for their reliefe: That letters be direct, charging all and sundrie inhabitantes of ilk Burgh, to convene and elect certaine persones, to stent their nichtbours; And the said election being maid, to charge the persones elect, to accept the charge upon them, in setting of the saide stent upon the inhabitantes of ilk Burgh: And to convene and set the famin, and make ane stent roll there-upon, as escheirs, within twentie four houres, nixt after they be charged thereto, under the payne of rebellion &c. And gif they failzie, to denounce &c. And escheit &c. And sik-like, the saide stent-roll being maid and set, as said is, to charge the Burgessees, inhabitantes and nichtbours of ilk Burgh, to make payment of their partes of the said stent, to the saidis Provest and Baillies, conforme to the tax-roll, to be maid and given out there-upon, within three dayes, nixt after the charge, under the paine of rebellion &c. And gif neede beis, to denounce &c. And escheit &c. And gif neede beis, that the saids Provest and Baillies poynd and distreinzie therefore, as they think maist meete and expedient. IT IS ALWAIES Provided, that na person quhat-sum-ever be stented or taxt within Burgh, except according to the availe and quantitie of his rente, living, guddes, and geare that he hes within Burgh, nawayes respectand his landes and possessions, quhilks helies to Landwart, for the quhilks hee will be obliged to pay taxation to others officers. AT TOUN, THE Saidis Estaites considering the manifold abuse that hes bene used in all times by-gane, be sundrie of the Lieges, against all gude conscience, in causing their pur Fermorers and labourers of their ground, being removeable, quha was subject in payment of verie deare fermes, to relieve them of the hail burden of the saide taxation, quhilk hes bene the occasion of the im-powerrithing of ane great number of the saidis Fermorers, and bringing of them to utter wrack and ruin. Quhairas of reason, the saidis tennentes, suld be al togidder free from the payment of onie taxation: And the famin suld be payed be sik as hes free-rent, landes, and guddes of their awin: For remeid quhairof, It is statute and ordained, that na person quhat-sum-ever, exact or compell his tennentes and Fermorers removeable, quha payis him ferme for the landes occupied be them, to pay ony parte of this present taxation, or to sure reliefe for the famin, at their handes. And gif the famin beis found done be ony persones, that they fall be called and conveyed before his Hiennesse Justice and his deputies, as violent and maisterfull oppreffours of his Hiennesse subjectes, and punished therefore, according to Justice.

AND TO THE EFFECT That bee the negligence of Collectoures, appoynted for in-gadding of the saide taxation, in letting time over-slip, the silver be nocht in reddiense in dew time, to the effectuating of the purpose, quhairfore the same was appoynted: therefore it is ordained, that the saidis letters and charges be directed against the saidis Prelates, beneficed persones, Schireffes, Stewardes, Baillies, and Provestes, and Baillies of Burrowes, to bee in reddiense against the first day of Januar nixt-to-cum; At the quhilk time, the saidis Collectoures fall use all possible diligence, for the dewe execution of the famin.

suspension.

ATTOUR, It is concluded, determined, and resolved, that na suspension of ony letters or charges to be direct for payment of the said taxation, shall be granted either be the Lordes of Councell and Session, or be the Lordes of secret Councell; bot dischargis them simpliciter of ony granting of the famin: Always as the equite of the cause requiris, his Majestie and Estaites hes given and granted speciall power and commission to Alexander, Lord Fyvie, President of the Colledge of Justice: Walter, Prior of Blantyre Thesaurar: Maister John Lindsay, of Balcar-houffe, Secretar: Maister James Elphinstoun, Person of Edglishhame: Maister Iohn Skene, Clerke of Register: And Maister Thomas Hammiltoun, of Drumcarny, his Hiennes Advocat. Giving them, at the least onie foure of them being alltogidder convened allanerlie, power and commission to grant the saidis suspensiones of the charges, direct for the said taxation, and to decide the saidis suspensiones, according to equirie and Justice. Discharging all uthers the Lordes of secret Councell and Session of ony melling therewith, and of their offices in that part: And als, our said SOVERAINE LORDE, and his Estaites, hes given power and Commission to the saidis perones abone mentioned, to decide the haill suspensiones restand un-decided of onie taxationes, granted heretofore, and ordainis them to ministrate Justice there-intill, according to reason.

deforcement produced be Schireffes
suld nocht
be received.

AND Because his Majestie hes bene defrauded of ane great parte of his taxation granted heretofore, be reason that the Schireffes of ilk Schire, quha suld be in-gadderers of the said taxation, and ar men of that power and authoritie, within the saidis Schireffe-domes, that there ar nane within the famin, that either dare or will in ony wayes resist the saidis Schireffes, in poynding for this presente taxation: zit neverthelesse, findrie of the saidis Schireffes heretofore, having had na regarde to the dewifull obedience they aucht to his Majestie, and to the faithfull discharginge of their offices, hes thocht in time by-gane, ane sufficient exoneration of them, forsamcikle of the said taxation, as they produced letters of horning, execute against ony perones for the famin: quhair be the power of the famin letters, he nicht have lauchfully poynded the rediest guidde and gear of the saidis rebelles: or else be production of allaged deforcementes, done wilfullie to defraude his Majestie, quhen as in their awin particular, they wald na-wayes suffer the like, being men of that authoritie and power, as said is: That they ar able with strang hand, to poynd and distreinzie the saidis rebelles guidde, gif they pleased. For remeid quhair of in time cumming: It is statute and ordained, that the Collectours of the said taxation, neither the Auditours, to be appointed hereafter, for the hearing of the saidis Collectours compts, in ony wayes receive ony horning, or deforcement, for ane lauchfull exoneration to the saidis Schireffes, for the said taxation, pro tanto: Bot allanerly the payment of the summes, for the quhilks they ar charged for: Always the saidis Estaites remittis to his Majesties consideration, the condition of some Schireffes, quha are nor of that power and authoritie, within their Schireffedomes, that ar able with strang hand, to poynd sik rebelles guidde and gear, as fall be deunced to the horne, for this present taxation, of quhom his Majestie hes promised, as he findis convenient to receive horninges and deforcementes for their exoneration.

The Schi-
reffes and Officers
suld up-lift the taxation without any dewtie.

AND BECAUSE Heretofore, there hes bene ane great abuse used bec the Schireffes and their Officiars, in up-lifting and raising of uther taxationes heretofore, be forcing the subjects to pay in ane maner ane new taxation to them, for in-gaddinger the famin, alleageing it to pertaine to them as Schireffes: Albeit they be their offices, ar subject in in-gaddinger of the famin, and na-wayes the saidis subjects debetound in payment of ony dewtie to them: Therefore it is statute and ordained, that na Schireffe nor officiar quhat sum-ever, directlie nor indirectlie, upon ony kinde of pretext, charge, up-lift or raise fra ony of his Hiennes subjects, onie dewtie quhat sum-ever, except the summe of fourtie shillings, for everie pound lande contened in the letter, under the paine of deprivation of the said Schireffe of his Office, in-cas it be foundin that the same was in onie maner of way, done of his commande or allowance: And gif the faulte be committed be the Officiar himself, not only to be the deprivation of him simpliciter fra the Office, Bot als wa to be an crime of falsed, and he to be accused before the Justice and his depts, and punished to the death therewith with all rigour.

Perones Privileged.

AND Forder, his Majestie and Estaites foresaidis, be thir presentis, annullis and dischargis all privileges and immunities quhat sum-ever, quhair by ony perones may thinke themselves free of payment of this present taxation (exceptand allanerly the privileges of the Lordes & members of the Colledge of Justice) Quhairunto his Hiennes and Estaites will na-wayes derogate in ony thing.

Precept
the King.

FURTHER HIS Majestie and Estaites being acquainted with the great abuse that hes bene in times by-gane, be granting of precepts to findrie inoportune perones, for answering them of aine parte of findrie taxationes granted heretofore, quhairthrow his Majestie hes bene verie far circumveened, the same summes of money imposed upon the subjectes, being utherwayes bestowed, nor to that end, quhairfore they were destinat: For remeid quhair of, his Majestie and Estaites foresaidis, ordainis and commandis the said Collectour, that he on na-wayes answer, obey, and make payment of ony patte of the said taxation, to ony person or perones, upon pretext of onie precept or precepts to be direct or subscribed be his Hiennes, except the saidis preceptes be subscribed bec the Commissioners under-written, quhom his Majestie and Estaites hes appointed to be over-seers, that this presente taxation be na-wayes employed, bot to the furnishing of the saids Embassadours: They ar to say, Peter, Bishop of Dunkeld: David, Bilhoppe of Aberdene: Iohn, Commendatar of Haly-rude-houffe: Edward, Commendatar of Kinlosse: William, Earle of Angus: George, Earle Marshall: Iohn, Earle of Marre: Alexander, Lord Levingstoun:

sioners.

Maister David Carnegie of Culluthy : Sir George Hume of Wedderburne Knight : John Towres of Innerleith, and Alexander Stratoun of Laureston : Henry Nisbet, Provest of Edinburgh : Sir William Sea-ton, Provest of Haddington : Nicoll Cornewell of Bonehard, Provest of Linlithgow, and Walter Cowane, Comissioner to this present Parliament, for the Burgh of Striviling : Or any aucht of them, there being alwayes twa of the Spirituall : staire : Twa Noble-men : Twa Barronnes, and twa Comissioners of Burrowes : Quhilke perones fall allanerly direct the saidis precepts to the said Collectour, for answering of any part of the said taxation, and that allanerly to the use abone written, for directing of the saidis Embassadours. And gif ony precepts upon ony uther effect, or to ony uther use, bee answered, then to the use abone written, in that case, alsweill the said Collectour, as a monie of the Comissioners abone written, as fall subscribe the saidis preceptes, fall be answerable to his Hiennesse and Estaites, for the summe debursed. And the same preceptes fall be na discharge and allowance to the said Collectour in his comptes. And gif at ony time appoynted for in-gathering of the said taxation, occasiones may interveene, that it fall not be necessar to direct away anie sik Embassadours, It is alwayes provided, that the said Collectour fall receive the said summe in his hands ay and quhill that the saidis Embassadours be direct : Or that be his Hiennesse Parliament and Estaites to be convened hereafter, The said summe fall be employed, with all their consentes, to sum uther gude warke, tending to his Hiennesse honour, advancement and weill of this Realme : Upon the quhilke declaration, Henry Nisbet, Provest of the Burgh of Edinburgh, in name of the haill Burrowes, asked instruments.

LIKE-WISE, It is provided that the said Collectour fall be na-ways urged nor subject, to receive, The Collectour fall
give forth the mair now
bee re-
ceivus. nor answer ony assignation or precept, to the use abone written, exceeding his receipt or intromission, albeit the samin be orderly subscribed, as said is, bot that it fall be ane sufficient excuse to him in refusing the acceptation thereof, that he hes received na mair, nor hee hes debursed already, upon anterior precepts.

AND FURDER, His Majestie and Estaites, considdering that diverse and sundrie perones, dwelland within Regalities, hes without onie regard of his Majesties Lawes, past wilfullie to his Hiennesse horne, and remained thereat as rebelles, thinking themselves in suretie great anough, be reason that the Lordes of the saidis Regalities, having richt to their saidis escheitres, commounlie disposis the samin in favours of the saidis rebelles: Quhair throw his Majestie is defrauded of sa-meikle of the said taxation, as is to be payed be them: For remeid quhairof, his Majestie and Estaites, be their presentes, determinatis and conclusis, that in all time hereafter, quhen onie person, within onie Regalitie within this Realme, be denounced for none-payment of the said taxation, that the Lordes of the said Regalitie, fall either cause the said summe, quhairfore the said rebell is denounced, be payed to his Majesties Collectour, of this present taxation, betwixt and the said fiteenth daye of March, next-to-cum : Or then the said Lord of Regalitie, fall renunce and give over onie richt and title, that he may have or claime to the said rebelles escheir : And that in favour of his Hiennesse Thesaurer, quhom his Majestie and Estaites foresaidis, ordainis to intromer there-with, and to make compt of the samin, before the Lordes Auditours of his Hiennesse Checker : That be this preparative hereafter, his Hiennesse be not defrauded of onie part of the said taxation, be reason of the said rebelles voluntar passing to the horne, as said is.

AND LAST, Because the officiares, chargars for the said taxation, up-lifteres, and receivers of the samin, hes bene in use of allowing to themselves of great and extraordinar tees for their service, quhilke was ane great impairing of the former taxation, there being ane great parte thereof bestowed upon the charges, in in-gathering of the samin, albeit it might have bene in-gaddered upon farre lesse expences, gif swa the Collectours of before had used the greater fore-sight, in not suffering the saidis officiares, to continue in their alleged wounted allowance : Therefore his Majestie and Estaites, ordainis the said Collectour Generall, of the said taxation, to compose, transact, and agree with the saidis officiares, executours of the saidis charges, upon als reasonable condition as is possible, having na respect al-to-gidder, to anie auld consuetudes, that the saidis officiares may crave be onie allowance granted of before.

Collected, visied and extracted, fourth of the Bukes and Register of the Actes of Parliament, at his Majesties command: Be me Maister JOHN SKENE, Clerk of his Hiennesse Councell, Register and Rolles, under my signe and subscription manuell.

K I N G J A M E S T H E S E X T,

Halden at EDINBURH the XV. day of November the yeare of God 1600.

1. The Fifth day of August is appointed for giving yearly solemne thanks to God.

FORSAMEIKLE As the Estaites of this Realme, acknowledging that singular benefite, grace and favour of GOD, bestowed upon them by his miraculous and extraordinary preservation of their most gracious SOVERAIGNE from the horrible and detestable murder, and parricide attempted against his Majesties most Noble Person, by unwhyle John Earle of Gowrie, and unwhyle Maister Alexander Ruthven his Brother, upon the fifth day of August last by past. And that it becommeth them with most humble and thankfull hearts, to give unfained and daily praise to their mercifull GOD, for the saiftie of every one of themselves, and of the haill bodie of this Common-wealth, preserved from wrack and utter confusion by the miraculous and bountifull deliverance of his Majestie, from the said Treason in maner fore-said. Therefore OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with advice and consent of the haill Estaites, Statutes and ordeins, that in all tymes and ages to come, the fifth day of August, shall yearly be appoynted and kept in all the Presbyteries and Parochins within this Realme, and bounds of his haill dominions, for publick preachings, prayers and solemne thank-giving to GOD for his great mercy and favour granted to this Realme, and every member thereof, by his Majesties gracious and miraculous preservation, as said is, upon the said day. As a perpetuall monument of their most humble, heartie and unfained thanks, to GOD for the same. And that all worke, labour, and other occupations, whilk may in any wise distract the people from the saids godlie exercises, and thank-giving yearly, upon the day foresaid, shall be forborne and abstained from. And that all Judges Civill and Ecclesiasticall, shall cause the same to be universallie observed, every one of them within the bounds of their owne jurisdiction; and see the contraveners thereof punished according to the qualitie of their transgression.

2. Act of Annexation of the fore-said Lands, and others to the Crowne.

FORSAMEIKLE As it is clearely understand by the Kings Majestie, and Estaites of this Realme, that the augmentation of the Patrimonie and revenwes of the Crown thereof, not onely serves for the forth-setting and maintenance of his Heighnes honour and Royall Estaite, but also releaves greatlie his subjects of divers charges and heave burdings.

Therefore Our said SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advise of the saids Estaites & whole bodie of this present Parliament, statutes, ordeines and declares, that all his Heighnes faithfull and true subjects, their heires and Successours, being nowyse culpable of the abhominable and horrible crymes of treason and lese-Majestie, attempted by the said umwhile John sometime Earle of Gowrie, against his Grace, most noble Person, shall bruike and possesse all their lands, heritages, woods, mylnes, fishings, annuallrents, lyfrents, tacks, reppalles and possessions whatsover halden by them, or their Predicessours of the said umwhile John sometime Earle of Gowrie, or his Predicessours, and hald the famin of Our said SOVERAIGNE LORD, his Heighnes Successours and others, their next immediat superiours, their heires and Successours, conforme to their investments, rights and securities thereof in all poynts. 4. Anent invading and persewing of Counsellors.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, understanding that diverse of the Lords of his Heighnes Secret Counsell and Session, and others of his Heighnes Officers, for the discharge of their bounden ducie in his Heighnes service, incurre the haitred, indignation, malice and feed of fundrie persons, who often tymes quarrels them, without any just cause. Therefore, Statutes and ordeines, that what-som-ever person in tyme comming, invades or persewes any of his Heighnes Sessions, Secret Counsell, or any his Heighnes Officers, it being verified and tryed, that any of the saids Counsellors, Sessioners and Officers, was persewed and invaded for doing of his Heighnes service, shall be punished to the death.

5. Anent Purpursion in the Kings Commonities.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, considering that his Heighnes, and his Heighnes Predicessours, for the helpe and releef of his poore commonies, in diverse parts of this Realme, hes reserved great quantitie of Moores, and others common lands, nowyse disposed in propertie, to any particular person. Notwithstanding whereof diverse persons, hes riven out, parked, tilled, sawne, and laboured great portions of the famin commonities, without any right of propertie competent to them, to the prejudice of his Heighnes, and utter wrack of the poore tennents and commons of this Realme. Therefore, Statutes and ordeines that all persons, who hes tilled, laboured, sawne, parked, inclosed, or appropriat any part or portion of his Majesties common Moores, or others commonities, belonging to his Heighnes, within the memorie of man; the famin being tryed, either by way of molestation, or by the Lords of the Session, that they within yeare and day, after the said tryell, lay in the famin commonities againe: to the effect the famine may remaine unlaboured or parked in any time thereafter; but to remaine as commonitie, siklike and in the famine maner as it was before the riving out or parking thereof. And gif they failie to doe the famine, within the space foresaid, lawfull tryall being tane therein, as said is, they shall be decerned to have committed purpursion. And siklike, OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites forefaids, statutes and ordeines, that wha-soever in tyme comming, shall till, labour, manure, saw, parke, inclose, or appropriat any part or portion of his Majesties common Moores, or others his Heighnes commonities. (The famine being sufficientlie tryed in maner foresaid) shall be also decerned to have committed purpursion, and punished therefore conforme to the Lawes, use and consuetude of this Realme, observed of auld in matters of purpursion.

6. Anent Bearers and Schutters with Hagbuts and Pistolets.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, understanding that calling and persewing of bearers, wearers & Schutters with Hagbuts and Pistolets, and others ingynes of fire-wark before his Justice and his deputes, breeds sik trouble to parties and assifours, and sik difficultie in the tryell, that often tymes innocent persons, are thereby vexed, and sik as are gilty eschewes their due punishment, by declyning of the assifours, that best knowes the veritie of the fact, and other sik subterfuges and delays of lawfull tryell. For remeed whereof, his Heighnes with advise and consent of his Estaites of Parliament, Statutes and ordeines, that the Bearers and Wearers of Hagbuts and Pistolets, and others ingynes of fire-wark, who hath neither committed slaughter nor mutilation, nor other odious violence there-with, but onely borne and worne them upon their persons, or in their companies, contrair his Heighnes Lawes, and Acts of Parliament, may be either persewed criminallie before the Justice and his deputes, according to the Custome heretofore observed, or before his Heighnes, and the Lords of Secret Counsell, and lawfull probation of witnes, or eath of partie, at the option of his Heighnes Thesaurer or Advocat. Provying alwyse, that sik as shall be persewed before his Heighnes, and Lords of the Secret Counsell, and tryed by probation of witnesses, gilty of any of the saids crimes, shall not incur the corporall punishment prescryved by the former Acts, be amputation of the right hand, but onely to be punished by warding of their persons, escheit of their goods movable or payment of sik a pecuniall penaltie and summe of money, as his Heighnes and Lords of his Secret Councell shall decerne; but prejudice any wyse of the execution of the former Acts of Parliament, against sik as shall be criminallie persewed, convict and found gilty by a conding assise before his Heighnes and Justice generall, or his deputes forefaids, in case his Majestie like rather that they be persewed criminally before the Justice, nor before the Secret Counsell. And farther, his Heighnes and Estaites forefaids, annuls & discharges all licences licences given by his Majestie, for bearing and wearing of Hagbutts, Pistolets and others ingynes of fire-wark. And statutes and ordaines, that no licences shall be granted in tyme coming to no persons for bearing and wearing of the same, except that the same licences be granted by his Heighnes, and Lords of secret Counsell sitting in Councell: And when the same licences are so granted, ordaines the same licences to pay composition to his Heighnes Thesaurer, and passe his Register, and to passe the Signet and haill seales; and decernes and declares all licences not granted in Councell, and whilk shall not pay composition and passe the Signet and haill seales, as said is, to be null and of nane avail. And notwithstanding thereof, the said persons to be accused, conforme to this present act, and acts of Parliament made of before.

7. Explanation of the acts of Parliament anent Ocker and Usurie.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With advyse and consent of the Estaites, ratifies and approves the acts of Parliament made against Usurie and taking of unlawfull annuel-rent or profite for silver in all poynts, according to the tenour of the same. And because the obscuritie of the act of his Majesties fifteenth Parliament, titulat, It is not lesome to take mair annuel-rent or profite nor ten for the hundred, anent the manner of tryell and probation of the said cryme by each of partie, and all other lawfull probation conjoynd there-with, competent of the Law, hes bred sic difficultie in peruse and decision of the saids causes, that Justice thereby hes bene greatlie frustrat. and the contraveiners of the said act altogether unpunished.

Therefore his Majestie with advyce and consent foresaid, statutes and ordaines that in all actions already intended, dependand, or hereafter to be intended against contraveiners of the saids acts, Liticontestation being made therein, by admitting of the summonds to probation, it shall be lesome to prove the saids summonds and contraveining of the saids acts, or any of them anent the taking of unlawfull and exhorbitant profite, for summes of money, by writte or each of partie, receiver of the said unlawfull profite, and be the witnesses insert in the said securitie, made for the saids summes, without receiving of the each of the partie, giver of the saids unlawfull profitess, for eschewing of all occasion of perjurie, whilk might be suspected to proceed there-upon.

8. Anent dissolution of the Coal-heughes of the proprietie, and lands where demolished strengths and Castels were builded of auld.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, understanding that the ground & boundes where diverse Castels, Strengths and Forths pertaining to his Majesties most noble Progenitours, were of auld situat, is now altogether most deforme and unprofitable to his Majestie, the saids Castels and Forths being so demolished, that there remains no kynde of building therein, either for strength or dwelling to his Majestie. As lykewise, that his Heighnes Coal-heughes within the boundes of his annexed proprietie, being unhabile to be wrought, without advancement of great expences, are so neglected that his Majestie neither receavins furniture of coales to his Heighnes houle thereby, nor any other profite or commoditie of the same. For remeed whereof, OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advyse and consent of his Estaites of Parliament, statutes and ordaines that it shall be lesome to his Heighnes, to sett all and fundrie the lands and boundes with the pertinents, where-upon any of the saids auld demolished and unhabitable Castels and Forths were situated; together with the Medowes and Loches belanging thereto, and Coal-heughes being within the boundes of his annexed proprietie, in few-ferme heritable. So that it be not in diminution of his Heighnes Rentall, Gressum or others duties, but in augmentation thereof. And to that effect, with consent foresaid, makes present dissolution thereof. And that the lands, Medowes, Loches, Coal-heughes, and others set by his Majestie, by vertue of this Act in maner foresaid, shall stand perpetuallie, and after his decease, the annexations made before to retorne againe to the awne nature. So that his Succesours, after his decease, shall have na farther power to annalie nor wodset in few any of the saids lands, boundes, Loches, Medowes, Coal-heughes, and others foresaid, nor they had before the making of this present dissolution. And his Heighnes and Estaites of Parliament, declares that the foresaid dissolution shall nowise hurt nor prejudice Alexander Lord Levingston his rights, whilk he hath to the Coall of Boniton beside Lithgow, and to his right that he hath to the Castell of Blacknes, with the greines and pertinents belanging thereto.

Act anent Cunyie and Bullion.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of Parliament, having at length reasoned anent the state of the Cunyie, as the same is presently current within this Realme declares, that in this present Parliament, they will on no wyse alter the fynnes nor pryces of the Cunyie, either of gould or silver; but that the same have free passage and course hereafter as it presently gives. And because his Majestie and Estaites understands that there is great scairstie of Cunyie for the tyme within this Realme. Therefore, hes given power and commission to the Lords of his Heighnes secret Counsell, for ordour taking anent the hame-bringing of Bulyeon for furnishing of the Cunyie-houle, and discharging the transporting and away taking of gould, silver and other forbidden gear, under the paine of punishing of their bodies and goods, according to the discretion of the saids Commissioners. And statutes and ordaines, that no licennces be granted hereafter for packing, peilling, salting and transporting of herring before the tyme foresaid; except the famine licennces be granted with consent of the Counsell sitting in the Councell. And after the granting of the saids licennces, ordaines the famine to passe the Signet and haill seals, otherwyfe declares the famine licennces to be null and of nane avail.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, considdering the great libertie that sundrie persones takes in provoking of others to singular combats, upon suddaine and frivole quarrels whilk hes ingenerated great inconvenients within this Realme.

Therefore, statutes and ordaines, that no person in tyme comming, without his Heighnes licence fight any singular combat, under the paine of death, and his movable gearr escheat to his Heighnes use. And the provoker to be punished with a more ignominious death nor the defender, at the pleasure of his Majestie.

13. Anent Hornings.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, considdering the great expenses and faltherie the Lieges of this Realme susteines, by seeking of a Notar and foure witnesses, to the registration of all letters of Horning, Relaxations, Inhibitions and Inredictions, in the Schireffes, Baillies or Stewarts bookes within this Realme. And als susteins great delay by seeking of the Clerks wha should registrat the famine.

Therefore OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites foresaids, discharges that part of the act of Parliament made in the Moneth of December 1597. yeares, anent the registration of the famine letters of Horning, Relaxation, Inhibition and Interdiction, before a Notar and witnesses. To the effect, that his Heighnes and his Crown be no wyfe hurt, nor prejudged by negligent Officiars, and the benefite of his Lawes may be competent to him at all tymes when it shall please him and his officiairs to crave and use the famine.

15. The paine of forbidden and uncustomed goodes.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with consent of the Estaites of this present Parliament, statutes and ordaines that na person nor persons, take upon hand in tyme comming to transport forth of this Realme, or inbring within the famine any forbidden or uncustomed goodes under the payne of tynself of their movable goodes that shall happen to come in the contrare hereof. That is to say, the saids forbidden and uncustomed goods that shall happen to be taken and apprehended, to apperteine as escheat to OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and to be intronnetted with, and up-taken by his Heighnes Comptroller, and compt thereof to be made by him in the Checker, and the remanent of the movable goodes and geare pertaining to the contraveiners of this present act, to be escheat for their contemption by OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Thefaurer. For the whilk he fall be lykewyse obliged to make compt in all tyme comming. And discharges all licences alreadye granted to that effect, and that no licence passe hereafter, except the famine be past in Counsell, and passe the haill Seates, and pay composition to his Heighnes. And ordaines letters to be direct hereupon as escheirs.

16. Ratification of the acts made of before in favours of the Kirk.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With advyce of the Estaites of this present Parliament, ratifies, approves and confirms the libertie of the true and holy Kirk and Religion, presentlie professed within this Realme, and established by the Lawes of the famine; and all acts, constitutions and immunities made and graunted to the famine, als well in his Heighnes minoritie as since his perfitte age. And ordaines the famine to be put to execution in all poyntes, against all persons whatfomever in all tyme comming.

17. Act anent non Communicants.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advyce of the Estaites of this present Parliament, Ratifies, approves and confirms the Act made in the convention of the Estaites at Haly-rude-bouffe, the day of October, the yeare of God 1598. anent non Communicants, whereof the tennour followes. FOR-SAMEIKLE as by diverse and fundrie lovable Actes of Parliament, made by his Heighnes, and his unwhyle Mother of good memory, since the reformation of the Religion. It is statute and ordained, that all his Heighnes subjects should embrace the Religion presently professed, als well by hearing of the word, as participation of the Sacraments. Notwithstanding whereof, fundrie persons of the Realme abstains from the receiving of the Communion and Lords Supper, pretending an excuse of rancour and malice that they have in their myndes, against some of their Neighbours, bearing them at deadly fead. Alledging so long as the famine rancour remains with them, and they nowyse reconciled with their saids Neighbours, that they can not worthelie receive the saids Sactaments, and can not justly be burdened by the Ministrie to doe the famine. Whilk pretended excuse is nothing but a coulour and clock to cover their Papistrie, whilk is the onely cause of their abstaining to communicat. And in so far as by the acts of general Assambleie, it is found that deadly fead can be no lawfull cause why any person should debar himselfe from the Seales and Sacraments of his Communion with Christ.

Therefore his Heighnes with advyce of the Estaites presentlie convened, hes statute and ordained, that all his Heighnes subjects shall communicat once every yeare; and shall no wyfe pretend any excuse of deadly feade, rancour or malice to appeare towards their neighbours. And when ever it shall happen any to absteyne or debar himselfe from the participation of the said Sacrament, upon the pretence of the said excuse, or any other cause whatfomever, they being first lawfully requyred by their Pastor or Presbyterie to doe the famine; that then they shall be astricted to pay the particular penalties under written, enjoyned to them, and that to his Heighnes Thefaurer. That is to say, every Earle fo oft as he shall contravene the premises, a thousand pounds. Every Lord, a thousand markes. Every Barron, five hundredth pounds. Every Freeholder, three hundredth markes. Every Yeoman, fourtie pounds. And every Burges according to the modification of the Kings Majestie and Lords of secret Counsell. Whilkes paines, the saids Estaites hes ordained OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Thefaurer, to execute with all extremite against the contraveiners hereof, and to intronnet there-with to his Heighnes use.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advyce and consent of the Estaites of this present Parliament, Ratifies, approves and confirms the act made in the secret Counsell at Sanct Jobnston, the first day of Apryle 1600. yeares. Anent the Jesuits, Seminarie Preists, excommunicat and traffiking Papissts, common enemies to all Christian Governement, whereof the tennour followes. For-sameikle, as by diverse Actes and Proclamations made and published heretofore, all Jesuits, Seminarie Preists, excommunicat and traffiking Papissts, common enemies to all Christian Governement, are specially commanded to depart and passe forth of this Realme, under certaine paines mentioned in the famine act. The not execution wheteof hes produced sik a contempt and mistegarde of the saids acts, that the resait and traffik of the saids Jesuites and and Seminarie Preists, is very frequent in sundry parts of this Realme, where-throw great numbers of ignorant and simple people are seduced by them, to declayne from the true and Christian Religion, to the offence and displeasure of God.

For remed whereof, it is statute and ordained by his Majestic, and Lords of his Heighnes secret Council, that whatsover Jesuites, Seminarie Preists, excommunicat and trafficking Papists, presently being within this Realme; or that shall happen to be within the same, shall immediately after their delation to his Majestic, be taken and apprehended by ordinar Magistrats of the bounds where they resort, and committed to ward, ay and whill they be converted to the Religion, removed and put out of the Countrie, or else punished according to the tennour of the saids acts. So that alwyse the benefite of the act of Parliament, granting to other Papists the space of fourtie dayes to satisfie the Kirk, or to remove of the Countrie, shall be nowyse extended to them. And because the reset whilk they have founden in diverse parts of the Countrie, hes given them the boldnes so avowedlic to contemne his Majestic and his Lawes. That therefore six persons as shall be given up by the Presbyteries, or Session of the Kirk, to be the resetters and hurders of them, shall be charged under six pecunial paines, as shall be modified by his Majestic, and Lords of secret Council, not to reset them hereafter with this addition; that his Majestic and Estaites of Parliament declares that every Earle that shall happen to reset any, shall pay a thousand pounds. Every Lord, a thousand marks. Every Barron, five hundred pounds. Every Free-holder, three hundred marks. Every Yeoman, fourtie pounds. And every Burges according to the modification of the Kings Majestic and Lords of secret Council; the paine alwyse not exceedand the summe of an hundred pounds. Whilks paines the saids Estaites hes ordained OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Thefaurer to exact with all extremitie against the contraveiners hereof, and to intromet there-with to his Heighnes use.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advyce of the Estaites of this present Parliament, ratifies and confirms the act made by his Heighnes and Estaites convened at Perth the first day of Appryle last by past, against strong and idle beggers; whereof the tennour follows. The Kings Majestic and Lords of secret Council, remembering how there hes bene diverse gude and lovable acts of Parliament and secret Council, made and published heretofore, for punishment of strong and idle beggers, and relceff of the poore and impotent. And how the saids acts hes received litle or no effect, or execution by the oversight and negligence of the persons, who were nominat Justices and Commissioners, for putting of the saids acts to full and due execution. And that here was not a special penaltie, appoynted and enjoyed to them, who should be remisse and negligent therein. So that the strong and idle beggers being for the most part theeves, bairds and counterfite limmers, living most insolentlic and ungodly, without mariage or Baptisme of a great number of their children, are suffered to vaig and wander throughout the haill Countrie, and the poore and impotent persons are neglected, and no care had, nor provision made for their entertainment and sustentation. For remed whereof, and supplic of the saids acts, and namely of the act of Parliament made in the yeare of God 1597. Whereby the execution of the acts of Parliament, is committed to the particular Sessions of the Kirk. It is statute and ordained by the Kings Majestic, with advyce of the Lords of his secret Council, that the saids Sessions of the Kirk, where need is, shall be assisted by one or twa of the Presbyteries; and that they shall put the saids acts to full and due execution, conforme to the tennour thereof in all poynts, every an of them within their awne bounds, under the paine of twentie pounds to be exacted of them, so oft as they shall be found to be remisse or negligent herein. And that these presents shall beginne to take effect, and have execution upon the first day of June next to come. And to the effect his Majestic may be the better assured of the care and diligence of the saids Sessions of the Kirk, in due execution of the saids acts of Parliament, his Majestic commands the haill Presbyteries of this Realme, to take diligent tryd of the obedience of the Sessions hereanent, and to report their certificat and testimonial there-upon, to his Majesties Ministers, betwix and the first day of August next to come. Where-throw his Majestic may thereafter proceed against six as shall be negligent as accords: And that letters of publication be direct here-upon as effects; where-throw the said Sessions of the Kirk, nor no other pretend ignorance. And to command and charge the saids Sessions of the Kirk to put the saids acts of Parliament made against strong and idle beggers, whereof the execution is committed to them, by the said act of Parliament made in the forsaide yeare of God 1597. to due and full execution in all poynts, conforme to the tennour thereof, betwix and the said first day of June next to come, under the said paine of twentie pounds to be exacted of them, so oft as they shall be founden to be remisse after the said day. Certifying them that falsyes, that the said paine shall be uplifted of them with all rigour. And six-like to command and charge the saids Presbyteries to take tryell of the saids Sessions here-anent, and to report their testimonial there-upon betwix and the first day of August, as said is. As they will answer to his Majestic upon their obedience at their uttermost charge and perrell.

20. Anent the Mariage of adulterous persons.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advyce of the Estaites of this present Parliament, decernes all mariages to be contracted here-after by any persons divorced for their awne cryme and fact of adulteris.

adulteric, from their lawfull spouses, with the persons with whom they are declared by sentence of the ordinar Judge to have committed the said cryme and fact of adulteric, to be in all tyme comming null, and unlawfull in themselves, and the succession to be gotten be sik unlawfull conjunctions, to be unhabile to succeed as heires to their saids parents.

21. Registers of the Schireffe Clerks to be marked by the Clerk of Register and his deputies, and their extracttes to be marked by themselves.

THAT all and whatsomever Schireffes Clerks in all tymes hereafter, shall present their Registers to the Clerke of Register to be marked by him and his deputies. And whatsomever registration to be subscribed hereafter by them, upon whadsoever letters together with whatsomever extractts shall be given forth thereof to any person, shall containe in all tyme comming, the lease wherein the same is registrat, and this ordour to beginne from the first day of March next; within the whilk, they and every one of them shall present their saids registers to be so marked. And that nane of them subscribe their registration upon any letter, or give forth any extractt subscribed with their hand after the foresaid day, unspecified the lease wherein the same is contened, within their Booke, marked as said is, under the paine of an hundredth markes, toties, quoties. But prejudice alwyse of the hornings whilks the saids Clerks omission, or neglect in this behalfe, shall nowyse make invalide.

22. All ament removing and extinguishing of deadly fead.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and haill Estaites of Parliament presentlie convened, for removing of the present feads that abounds within this Realme. Finds it meet and expedient that the parties be charged to compeir before his Heighnes and secrete Counsell, at sik dayes as shall be thought expedient, to submit to two or three friends on either side; or to subscribe ane submission, formed and sent by his Majestie to them to be subscribed. Whilks friends by their acceptation shall be bound either to decree within the space of threttie dayes, after they have accepted, or else to agree at their first meeting, on ane Over-man who shall decree within that space: whilk if they can not doe, they shall within the foresaid threttie dayes, report the ground and cause of their disagreement to his Majestie, and sik specials of his Counsell as his Heighnes shall finde least partial and suspect. (Whaes Majestie by the advyce of the Estaites here present, is declared to be Over-man in that matter.) And failing, that the friends arbitrators, either decree or report not within the foresaid space after their acceptation, every one of them by the authoritie of this present acte, to incur the paine of ane thousand pounds, to be employed to his Majesties use. And because all feads are ane of thir three natures, namely that there is either no slaughter upon neither side, or slaughter upon ane side only; or else slaughter upon both sides. The parties in the first may be commanded to agree, due satisfaction being offered, and performed at the sight of friends, and over-man in maner foresaid. Where there is slaughter upon both sides, his Majestie may by rigour and equalitie of Justice, compell them to agree, due satisfaction to be made on either side, according to the qualitie of the offence, and persons offended. Where the slaughter is onely on the ane side, the partie grieved can not refuse in reason to submit in maner foresaid, all quarrell he can beare to any person innocent, Justice being made patent to him against the gilty; speciallie he being ordained by this present acte to persew nane other but the gilty, and that by the Law. And the partie so persewed not to beare quarrell for it, but to defend in lawfull maner. And that all quarrels shall cease against sik as shall be lawfully persewed in this forme, either by their conviction, and execution by Law, or otherwyse by their clemency and agreement; that all persons being of perfite age, and within the Countrie, and having entres to persew any partie for crimes capitall, shall within fourtie dayes after the publication of this present acte at the head burgh of the Shyre where the persewer dwelles; raise, and cause execute their letters in the said matter. And insit in the perseute thereof, with certification to sik as failyes, that their action shall perish, exyre and be extinct; and the said persewer shall be compelled to submit his action, in maner above specified. Reserving alwyse to his Majestie his action, as accords of the Law. Provying, that if the said persewer satisfie the ordinance of this present acte, and be delayed either by ane continuation of the dyet by warrant of the Prince, or by the dilatour defenses proponed by the pannel, for eliding of the finally tryell of the perseute. In that case the prescription nowyse to runne against the persewer, having done his possible diligence in maner foresaid. And because the giltines of crimes consistes not onely in the person of the actual committers thereof, but also in the authors, causers and movers of the same to be committed, wha are airt, part and gilty of the said fact, whereof no publict knowledge nor certaine tryell is had, His Majestie and Estaites nowyse willing that neither the authors nor actour of sik hynous crimes eschape the due punishment, through obscuritie and laik of publict knowledge thereof. Declares that the parties offended, doing their diligence, as said is, against the actual and knowne committers of the saids crimes, and satisfying this acte anent their reconciliation with all others persons, shall nowyse be prejudged of their action, competent against sik persons of whaes gultines they shall hereafter get knowledge; provying, that they shall beare no fead against the saids suspect persons, whilk first after sufficient information obtained, they raise their letters for summondng the saids parties to underly the law, and either make them fugitive, or otherwyse obtene the perseute decided. And farther, that the prescription of this present act shall nowyse militat against any partie, whaes actions are already submitted to ane langer day nor is preseryved in this act. Provyding, that the partie doe his diligence in maner above writtten, within fourtie dayes after the expyryng of the said submission. And to the intent that Justice be an occasion to breed farther trouble, every partie shall come to the town accompanied allanerlie with twentie foure persons, where both they and their companie shall keep their ludging to the houre of cause. At the whilk, first the one and then the other shall be broght out by the town in Armes accompanied from their ludging to the Bar with the number preseryved to their rank by act of Parliament. The contravincner wherof, if he be persewer, shall tyne his persute in tyme comming; and if he be defender, he shall be denounced rebell as presumed guiltie, and refusing lausfull tryell. And for staying of all deadly feads in tyme comming where there is no cause nor quarrell given as yet, it shall not be lawfull to the persewer to invade, persew, beare fead or quarrell against any friend of the offender, innocent and not accused and convict of the cryme, under the paine of tynfell of his action and persute against the guiltie, & to be compelled to submit with the offenders selfe. Reserving alwyse to his Majestie his action against him for the cryme. Lyke as the friends of the guiltie person being convict and fugitive from the Law, shall not beare quarrell for his persute be Law, neither maintein, supplie nor reset him, under the paines conteneid in the act against resetters of fugitives and rebels. And in case any of the friends of the guiltie persons reset him in contempt of this present act, and others his Heighnes Lawes, the partie grieved assisted with his Heighnes Advocat, shall onely persew the resetter by ordour of Law without convocation or fead, grudge or quarrell to be borne against him therefore othervyse; under the paine of tynfell of his said lawfull action in all tyme comming. And to this ordour before specified, the haill Nobilitie and Estaites here present, have given their approbation and consent, and sworne to conforme them thereto in all feads whilks shall fall out in tyme comming. And this present act nowyse to nullitat in sik case where the partie offender is denounced rebell, or shall happen hereafter to be fugitive and put to the horne, for slaughter or other odious capital crymes, during the tyme of their rebellion. And to the intent these present articles may have the better effect, and be the mair willingly embraced by his Majesties haill subjects, his Heighnes of his proper motive and gracious inclination to Justice, quietnes and well of his people, sollemnly declared and faithfully promitted in presence of the saids Estaites, that for slaughter and other odious crymes to be hereafter committed, his Heighnes shall graunt no respit, remission, pardon nor oversight at any tymes hereafter, Albeit the parties tranfact and agree amongst themselves, till the inveterat and damnable customes of the saids heynous crymes be rooted out and altogether suppressed. Whilks articles above writtten, in the haill heads and poynts of the fame, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites foresaids, presently convenied, ratifies, approves and confirms, and ordcines the same to have the strength, force and effect of ane law in all tyme comming. And thar letters of publication and executorials passe hereupon, for the better observacion hereof in this present Parliament.

23. Act against slaughter of Wyld-fowles.

FORSAMEIKLE as by common consuetude of all Countreys, special prohibition is made to all sorts of persons to slay wyld-foull, Hair or Vennison, except sik as by their revenewes may beare the charges and burdings of the Halkes, Hounds and Dogs, requisit in sik pastymes. In respect the fame as well hes bene created for the recreation of mankind, as for their sustentation. Lyke as it is of treuth that by diverse and sundry acts of Parliament others statutes and proclamacions made heretofore, all slaying of the said wyld-foull and beastes by any indirect meanes, sik as hagbut, girn, net and fowler dogg is speciallic forbidden, and diverse penalties conteneid in the fame act. Yet never heles, sik hes bene the slacknes of the execution of the fame, that diverse and sundrie persons having greater regarde of their gaine and commoditie, whilk they purches by the selling of the said wyld-foull, to sik persons wha prefers their awne inordinar appetite and gluttonie, either to the obedience of the saids Lawes, or to the recreation that may be had by the direct slaying of the fame. Hes used all the saids indirect meanes in slaying of the saids wyld-fowles and beastes, whereby this Countrie being so plentifullic furnished of before, is become altogether scarce of sik waites. For remeed whereof, and that the continuing of the said abuse may not procure worse inconvenients, feing in tyme of peace in all tyme bygane, the saids pastymes of hunting and halking were the onely meanes and instruments to keepe the haill Leiges bodies fra not becoming altogether effeminat. OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites of Parliament, finding that the discharging of the selling of the saids wyld-foull and Vennison shall procure ane remeed of the abuse foresaid. Have therefore discharged, lyke as by these presents they discharge any persons whatsoever, within this Realme in any wyse to sell or buy any fastan reid or fallowe Deare, Daes, Raes, Hares, Partridges, Moote-fowles, Black-cokes, Aith-hennes, Termigants, wyld-Dukes, Teilles, Atteilles, Goldings, Mortyms, Schidderems, Skaildraik, Herron, Butter, or any sik kynde of fowles, commonly used to be chased with Halkes, under the paine of ane hundred pounds to be incurred alsweil by the buyer as the seller. And in case of the inhabilitie of any of the saids persons to pay the said summe, that the apprehender of them shall cause them be scourged thorow the Burgh or Town where they shall be apprehended. And als discharges any of the saids Leiges, in any wyse to slay any of the wyld-foull or beastes above specified, by girn, net or hagbut, under the paine above specified to be incurred by them. For execution whereof, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD hes given and graunted power and commission to all Schireffes, Stewarts, Bailies, alsweil of Regalities as Royalties, Provests and Baillies of Burrowes, and every Barron within his awne Barronnic, special Justices to that effect; giving them full, free and plene power to up-lift or execute the paines above specified against the transgressors of these presents; the one halfe of the saids pecunial paines to be intromitted wth by them, to appertaine to OUR SOVERAINE LORD, and to be payed to his Heighnes Thefaurer; and the other halfe to the delator and apprehender. And because one of the greatest occasions of the scarcitie of the saids Partridges and Moorc-fowles, is by reason of the great slaughter of their Pouts and yonganes: when as for youth neither are they habile to give pastyme, and for quantitie can no wyse be ane great refreshment.

Therefore OUR SOVERAINE LORD hes discharged all his Heighnes subjects whatsoever, in any wyse to slay or eat any of the saids Moore-pouts, or of any other kyndes before the thrid day of Julie; or Partridg-pout, before the aught day of September. Alwyse OUR SOVERAINE LORD and Estaites foresaids, declares that this present act, shall nowyse comprehend Cunnings, Wod-cock, Plevras nor wyld-Goose, but the samine to be flane with nets, and others-ingynes not forbidden by the Lawes of this Realme, and to be coft and fauld as lawfull Merchandice as of before.

24. Anent the custuming of goods.

FORSAMEIKLE as it is understand to the Kings Majestie and Estaites of this present Parliament, that be diverse Acts of Parliament, Lawes and constitutions heretofore observed, all maner of English goods broght within this Realme, are and have bene ever subject, and in use of payment to his Heighnes of ane certaine custome, and duetie properly pertaining to his Majestie, as ane-part of the Patrimonie of his Crown. Lyke as also other sorts of claith, silkes, stufes, and merchandice broght within this Realme from forraigne Nations, are by act of his Majesties Nobilitie, Councell and Estaites, of the date the thretein day of Majj, the yeare of God 1597. Ratified and approved in Parliament holden at Edinburgh in the Moneth of December, the samine yeare, subject to the payment of ane certaine custome to his Heighnes. And the Merchants inbringers of the saids goods, aught not to losse, breake bowk, or dispone there-upon, whill the samine bee first entered, then marked, and dewlie customed by the Custumer appoynted thereto. Notwithstanding the custome of the saids goods are very far over-sene, to the great hurt and discommoditie of his Majestie, in respect there is na seall appoynted to be hanging, to the saids goods, according to the use and custumetude observed in other Nations, whereby the goods customed, could nowyse be knowne by the uncustomed goods. And sa by their confusion the Merchants, awners and inbringers of the saids goods, immediately after the arryving and comming of the saids goods within this Realme, loies, breaks bouk, selles and conceales the samine; and never offers nor presents na part thereof to be customed, conforme to the ordour, to the great prejudice of his Heighnes: whilk being now considered by his Heighnes, his said Nobilitie, Councell and Estaites, and they finding that by the want of the said seall, his Majestie is, and hes bene greatly defrauded of his customes. Ordaines therefore the haill Custumers within this Realme, to cause make ane print, seall, and stamp of seall containing twa halves for every Burgh and sea-port within this Realme, where there are established custumers; the one halfe thereof containing JACOBUS REX, with his Heighnes Armes and Crown; and the other halfe the name of the Burgh where the samine shall remaine. Whilk seall & stamp shall be applyed to lead, & being so stricken and printed with the said stamp, shall be hanging to every wob, peece and steik of claith, silk and stuff of whatsoever Nation that here-after shall be broght within this Realme by sea or land, before the samine be presented to open markets, fauld or any wyse disposed upon. And the one halfe of the said seall to be kepted by the Custumer, and the other halfe by the Clerk of the Cocquet. The awners of the said claith, silkes and stufes pay and the custume thereof. And to the effect the claith, silkes and stufes presentlie being within this Realme, may be knowne and decerned from that whilk hereafter shall be broght within the samine. It is also decerned and ordained, that the Custumer of every Burgh and sea-port, shall repaire to the dwelling houes and buiths within every one of the saids Burghs and Ports where they are particularlie appoynted Custumers, and there receive the cates of the awners, of silk peeces, steiks and wobs of claith, silkes and stufes as are therein; whither the samine hes payed the custume thereof or not. And sik as hes not payed custume, that the samine be then instantlie payed, and the said seall in token thereof hanging thereto, and to all others peeces, steikes and wobs whilks shall be apprehended within the saids buithes and houes, whereof the custume hes bene payed of before, upon the expenses alwyse of the said Custumer. And that the awners of the said claith and stufes, requyre the Custumers within every Burgh and Port particularlie to repaire to the saids buiths and houes, to this effect, within fourtene dayes after the publication hereof: And farther, to doe and performe all other things whilks to every one of them is appoynted to be done in maner foresaid, under the paine of confiscation of all the peeces, wobs and steiks of claith and stuff, that shall be apprehended thereafter wanting the said seall. And that na maner of persons, inbringers of the saids claith, silk and stuff within this Realme in tyme comming, presume nor take upon hand, to sell nor dispone upon the samine, nor na part thereof, unto the tyme the samine be presented to the Custumers within the custume-houes, the custume thereof payed, and the said seall in token thereof, hanging to every particular peece of the samine, as said is, under the paine of escheating of the samine. Certifying them if they failyre that all and whatsoever wobs, steiks and peeces whilks shall be apprehended wanting the said seall, shall be confiscar and intromitted with to his Majesties use as escheat, with all rigour and extremite in example of others. And that letters of publication be direct here-upon, where-throw nane pretend ignorance of the famine.

25. All charges of Horning against persons dwelland be north the water of Die to be direct upon fiftene dayes at the least.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of Parliament, considering how that his Majesties subjects, inhabiting the North-part of this Realme, are oftymes drawn in great inconvenients by findrie charges, direct against them, some-tyme for finding of Law-borrowes, or compeiring before his Majestie, and his Councell upon simple charges of sex dayes; sa that be the shortnes of tyme, and impossibilitie to them to satisfie the saids charges within sex dayes, in respect of the far distance of the place of their residence from the Burgh of Edinburgh, they are oftymes put under the danger of horning; whereas if they had convenient tymes granted to them, there wald not be sik disobedience of sik great numbers of his Majesties subjects. For remeed whereof, it is statute and ordained, that na letters of horning shall be direct against any persons dwelling be North the water of Die upon ane shorter space nor fiftene dayes at any tyme hereafter. And the horning to be used against any of the saids persons upon ane shorter space nor fiftene dayes, shall be null and of nane avail.

THE Kings Majestie and Estaites of Parliament, considering the manyfald indignities from tyme to tyme done to his Majestie, by ane number of undewtiful and unrevener subjects, wha to the contempt and dishonour of his Majestie, make frequent tulyies, and seekes the commoditie to revenge their particular quarrells within the Burgh of Edinburgh and Cannogate, and others places neere to the place of his Heighnes residence; not spairing sometime at his Majesties awne back, to use their privat revenge, to the hazard and perelling of his Heighnes most Noble Person. Lyke as diverse persons, under pretence of their awne defence, repairs and resorts within his Majesties Palaces, armed with Jacks, Secreets or Corlets, under their doublets or coats. Where-throw it is to be feared, that certaine evill disposed persons, under collour of their awne defence, may attempt some enterpryse against his Majestie or his domestiks.

For remeed whereof, and eschewing of the inconvenients that here-upon may ensue; It is statute and ordained, that whatsomever person of what estate, qualitie or degree he be of, shall presume to take upon hand at any tyme hereafter, to invade or persue any of his Majesties subjects, within any part of this Realme, within ane myle to the place of his Heighnes residence and remaining for the tyme; or wha shall resort and repair within his Majesties Palaces, or any part of his residence, armed with Jacks, Secreets, or Corlets under their coats, doublets or otherwyse; that the saids persons, makers of the saids tulyies and combats, after due tryall that they were the first offenders. As also, the saids persons, repairing armed within his Majesties houses, as said is, shall be taken apprehended and warded for yeare and day, and far, her, ay and whill they fyn with his Majestie for their libetty, according to his Heighnes good pleasure.

27. Auent the Court place of the Schirefdome of the Meirnes.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, understanding the great prejudice sustained by the Leiges of this Realme, where the judgment-saits of Schireffes, and others Judges are not sa commodious, neither in building nor in situation, as the Schireff, others Judges and their deputies may conveniently sit, nor the parties may resort thereto. And speciallie that the Schireff of the Meirnes, alias, Kincardin and his deputies, hes bene in use these many yeares to sit at Kincardin, where there is neither ane Tolbuith, nor any house to parties to ludge into, for their interteinement; nor yet is the place in the middes of the Schite, whereby the Leiges within the said Schirefdome are greatlie damnified. For remeed whereof, it is statute and ordained, that the Schireff of the Schitefdome of Kincardin and his deputies, in all tyme coming, shall sit and hald their Courts at the Stane-hyue, as maist meet and convenient to them, & to the haill Leiges within the Shyre: & that precepts to be direct, shall be to warne all parties within their jurisdiction, to compeir, to persue & defend in their Courts at the Stane-hyue in all tyme hereafter.

Of the

Most Excellent and Mightie King and Monarch, JAMES by the Grace of GOD, King of great Britane, France and Ireland, defender of the Faith, &c. Halden at Perth the ninth day of Julie 1606. yeares, by the Potent Earle and Lord JOHNE Earle of Montrofe, Lord Grahame and Muggdock, his Majesties Commissioner, with advise of the Estates of this Realme.

1. Act anent the Kings Majesties Royall Perogative.

ORSAMEIKE As the Estaites and hail bodie of this present Parliament, considering that with the lawfull descent in the Person of Our most gracious Sovereigne, of the righteous inheritance of the famous and renowned Kingdomes of England, France and Ireland, whilk very farre surpasses the wealth, power and force of the Dominions of any of his Progenitours, Kings of Scotland. GOD hath also joynd ane wonderfull increffe of care and burding. For discharge whereof he hath endued his Majestie with sa many extraordinary graces, and maist rare and excellent vertues, as he is not onely knowne by daily and manifest experiences, in matters of greatest difficultie and consequence, to the unspeakable comfort of all his faithfull subjects, to be capable of the happie government of his saids Kingdomes. But by his most singular Judgement, fore-sight and princely wisdom, worthie to possesse, and habile to governe farre greater Dominions and numbers of people. And in respect thereof, the saids Estaites plainly perceiving that by this his Majesties exaltation, not onely in preeminence and power, but also in all Royall qualities requisit for the happy discharge thereof, GOD hes manifestlie expressed his heavenlie will to be, that his Majesties Imperiall power, whilk GOD hes sa gratiousslie enlarged, shall not by them in any sort be impaired, prejudged or diminished; but rather revered and augmented sa farre as possible they can. Therefore the saids Estaites, and hail bodie of this present Parliament, all in ane voluntar, humble, faithfull and united heart, minde and consent, truelie acknowledges his Majesties Sovereigne Authoritie, Princelie Power, Royall Prerogative, and Priviledge of his Crown over all Estaites, and causes whatsoever within his said Kingdome. And his Majestie with expresse advyce, consent and assent of the saids hail Estaites, Ratifies, approves, and perpetuallie confirms the samin; als absolutlie, ample and freelic in all respects and considerations, as ever his Majestie or any of his Royall Progenitours Kings of Scotland, in any tyme bygane possessed, used and exercised the samin. And lykewyse, with consent foresaid, casses, annuls, abrogats, retreats and rescinds all and whatsoever things attempted, enacted, done or hereafter to be done or intended to the violation, hurt, derogation, imparing or prejudic of his Heighnes Sovereigne Authoritie, Royall Prerogative and Priviledge of his Crown, or any point or part thereof, in any tyme bygane or to come. And the saids hail Estaites for them and their Successours, faithfullie promits, perpetuallie to acknowledge, obey, maintein, defend and advance the lyfe, honour, saistie, dignitie, Sovereigne Authoritie, and Prerogative Royall, of his sacred Majestie, his Heires and Successours, and Priviledge of his Heighnes Crown, with their lyves, lands and goods to the uttermost of their power, constantlie and faithfullie to withstand all and whatsoever, persons, powers or estaites, wha shall presume, preafe or intend any wyse to impugne, prejudice, hurt or impare the samin; and never to come in the contrare thereof, directlie nor indirectlie in any tyme comming.

2. Act anent the Restitution of the estate of Bishops.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD now in his absence forth of his Kingdome of Scotland earnestlie desiring sa to provyde for the just and politique government of that Estate, as his faithfull subjects there of may perctielie knaw, that absence breeds not in his Royall mynde oblivion of their good, but that he is daylie mair and mair cairfull of sik things as may tend maist to the honour, profite and perpetuall stabilitie and quyetnes of the said Kingdome; wherein understanding Religion and Justice to be sa necessar foundaments and pillers, as by them the authoritie of the Princes and quyetnesse of the people in all tymes by-past, hes cheeflie bene established and mainteined, whill of late in his Majesties yong yeares, and unsetled Estaitie, hes bene greatlie impaired, and almost subverted, spciallie by the indirect abolishing of the Estaitie of Bishops, by the act of annexation of the Temporalitie of benefices to the Crown, made in his Heighnes Parliamment, halden at Edinburgh in the Moneth of Julie, the year of God ane thousand, five hundred, foure score seven years. Whereby albeit it was never meant by his Majesty, nor by his Estates, that the said Estate of Bishops consisting of Benefices of cure, and being ane necessare Estate of the Parliament, should on any wyse be suppressed; yet his Majesty by experience of the subsequent tyme, hath clearlie seene that the dismemb- ing and abstracting from them of their livings, hes broght them in sik contempt and povertie, that they are not habile to furnish necessaries to their privat families, meikle lesse to beare the charges of their wonted rank in Parliament and generall Counsaills, and alter the example of their Predecessours, to assit and supplie their Prince with their Counsell and goods, in tyme of peace and warre. The remeid whereof properlie pertains to his Majesty, whom the haill Estates of their bounden duetie, with maist heartlie and faithfull affection humble and truclic acknowledge to be Sovereaigne Monarck, absolute Prince, Judge and Governour over all persons, Estates and causes bath Spirituall and Temporall within his said Realme.

THEREFORE his Majesty, with expresse advyce and consent of the saids haill Estates of Parliament, being cairfull to repone, restore and re-integrat the said Estate of Bishops, to their auuncient and accustomed honour, dignities, prerogatives, priviledges, livings, lands, teyndes, rents, thriddes and estate, as the samne was in the Reformed Kirk, maist ample and fre at any tyme before the act of annexation foresaid. By the tenor hereof, retreats, rescinds, reduces, casses, abrogats and annulles the foresaid act of annexation of the temporalitie of benefices to the Crown, made in the year of God ane thousand five hundred four score seven yeares, as said is, in as far as the samne may in any wyse comprehend or be extended to the authority, dignity prerogative, priviledges, towers, castles, fortalices, lands, Kirks, teyndes, thriddes or rents of the saids Bishopricks, or any part thereof, with all others acts of Parliament, made in prejudice of the saids Bishops, in the premisses or any of them, with all that hes followed or may follow there-upon, and all acts of dismemb- ing of particular Kirks, or commoun Kirks of the saids Bishopricks, from the samne, or for separating the thriddes of the saids Bishopricks from the bodie, tytle and twa part of the samne. To the effect, the persons presentlie provyded to the Bishopricks of Scotland, or any of them, or that hereafter shall be provyded to the samne, may freely, quyetlie and peaceablie enjoy, bruike and possesse the honours, dignities, priviledges and prerogatives, competent to them or their Estate since the Reformation of Religion; and all Towers, Fortalices, Lands, Kirks, Teyndes, Rents, Twpарт, Thriddes, Patronages and rights whatsoever, belonging to the Bishopricks or any of them, to use and exercise the samne, and freelic dispone upon the haill twa-part and thrid, Temporalitie and Spiritualltie of their saids Bishopricks, and all the premisses belonging to the saids Bishopricks, as the saids Acts of annexation and remeaner Acts, made in any wyse to their prejudice in the premisses, and everie one of them, and all that followed there-upon, had never bene made nor done. They alwyse enterteyning the Ministers, serving at the cure of the Kirks of their saids Bishopricks, upon the readiest of their saids thriddes, according to the ordinar assignations made or reasonable to be made thereant.

ATTOUR, Because his Majesties intention is onely to restore the Bishopricks, whilk are benefices of cure, and nowyse to alter any thing done in other benefices, whilk are not of cure. And for the better satisfaction of his Majesties subjects and faithfull servants, whom his Majesty in his princelie liberalitie, for diverse good respects and causes mooving him, hath benefited, rewarded and advanced with erections, feses, Patronages, Teyndes, and others infestments, confirmations of lands, rents, Teyndes, Patronages and others rights of Abbacies, Pryories and others Benefices, not being Bishopricks.

And to the effect they be not prejudged, nor put in mistrust by this act, of their saids securities in the premisses, His Heighnes with the advyce of the haill Estates of Parliament, Ratifies and approves, and for him and his Successours perpetuallie confirms, the haill erections, infestments, confirmations, Patronages, tacks and others securities of Lands, Teyndes, Patronages, rights and rents whatsoever, of the saids haill Benefices foresaid, or any part thereof (not being Bishopricks) given, disposed or confirmed by his Majesty, during the tyme of the said Parliament, halden in the Moneth of Julie, ane thousand, five hundred, foure score seven yeares of before or sensyne, made agreeable to the Lawes and Acts of the said Parliament ane thousand five hundred, foure score seven, and others Lawes and Acts made sensyne. And faithfullie promits in verbo Principis, never to quarrell nor impugne the samne, directlie nor indirectlie in any tyme coming. As also for the well and securitie of the tenants of the Lands and Teyndes of the saids Bishopricks, wha since the Act of annexation, have debursed diverse summes of money to his Heighnes the saurer, for making and confirming to them of their infestments, tacks and securities of the saids Lands, Teyndes and rents of the Bishopricks posselt by them. And to the effect the annulling of the said Act of annexation, bereave them not altogether of the saids Lands, Teyndes and Rents of Bishopricks, acyured be them upon their large charges and expenses, according to the Law then standing. And that upon the other part, the saids Bishopricks be not altogether made unprofitable, by the unlawfull Dilapidation of the rents thereof, and hurtfull conversion of the victuall, caines, custumes, and others commodities of the samne, for unequall and unworthie pryces.

THEREFORE his Majesty with advyce of his Estates foresaid, Ordeins the saids persons possel- sours of the Lands or Teyndes of Bishopricks by vertue of Infestments, Confirmations or Tacks of the samne granted or sett since the said Act of annexation, and conforme to the samne, and Lawes of the Re- gaine, at the tyme of the making thereof, shall have the securities, confirmations, tacks and rights of the saids lands and teynds of the Bishoppicks foresaid, renewed and granted to them in sufficient, valeid and perfit forme by the Bishops, possessours of the saids benefices. The saids Fewers, Tackfmen and Tenants, paying to the saids Bishops, for gressum, entresse and composition, for renewing of their saids fewes of all Lands, and others belonging to the saids Bishoppicks; and als ratification of their saids tacks of all teyndes pertaining thereto; Of the whilks at the day and date hereof, there are ten yeares crops of the famine to runne; The double of the yearlie silver duetie, contained in their saids fewes and tacks; and the single of the victual duetie, and of all others dueties expressed therein, And that by and attour the yearlie duetie expressed in their saids fewes and racks: The whilks dueties, for gressum, entresse and composition, the hail Estaites of Parliament, declares, shall be payed by the saids Fewers, Tackfmen and Tenants, within yeare and day, after they be lawfullie cired to that effect, and for that famine cause; or after that intimation of the famine be made to them, by the Bishops in their awne Courts.

And in case of not thankfull payment, of the double of the said silver duetie, and of the single of the said victual, and others dueties to be payed within yeare and day, after the said citation and intimation, as said is, THE saids Estaites of Parliament, findes and declares, that the saids Fewers and Tackfmen shall be astricted to pay after the expyring of the said yeare and day, thankfull payment not being made within that space of the foresaid gressum, entresse and composition, extending to the quantie above written; the quadruple of the silver duetie, and the double of the said victual, and others dueties foresaid, to be payed to the saids Bishops, by and attour the yearlie dueties contained in the saids fewes and racks, as is before said. And the saids Estaites, ordeines and declares, that if there be not ten yeares compleit to runne of the saids tacks of teyndes, pertaining to the Kirks of the saids Bishoppicks, after the day and date hereof; in that case, the Tackfmen on nawyse shall be astricted to pay any gressum, entresse or composition for the famine, to the saids Bishops, but they to be free thereof.

ATTOR, the saids Estaites declares, that the said act and ordinance of Parliament, shall nowyse be extended, comprehend nor prudge any fewes of Bishoppicks, lawfullie sett and confirmed before the said act of annexation, whilk was in the said Moieith of Julie, ane thousand, five hundred, fourescore seven yeares. Excepting and reserving alwyse forth of this present act, all dispositions made of whatsomever patronages of Kirks pertaining to the saids Bishoppicks, disposed by lawfull Titulares, and the Kings Majestie, and ratified in Parliament, in favours of whatsomever person or persons, and nane others. And findes and declares all dispositions whatsomever, made of the foresaid patronages of all Kirks pertaining to the Bishoppicks disposed by the lawfull Titulares, and his Majestie, and not confirmed in Parliament to be of nane availl, although the famine patronages be graunted and disposed by the Kings Majestie and Titulares thereof. And lykwyse, excepting and reserving all common Kirks, pertaining of auld to the saids Bishoppes, and their chapter in communtie, whilks are disposed by his Majestie, to whatsomever person at any tyme preceeding this present act. And the saids Estaites declares, that if there be any common Kirks, pertaining to the saids Bishoppicks, and to their chapters of auld, that now perteines and fallies to them be vertew of this present act. That thereby the Ministers, wha are lawfullie provyded to the saids common Kirks by presentation, collation and admission, and serving thereat, shall nowyse be prejudged during their lystymes; but that the saids provisions shall be sufficient right and warrant to the saids Ministers, to bruke, joyce and possesse their common Kirks foresaid, according as they are provyded thereto, for all the dayes of their lystymes. Notwithstanding whatsomever clause contained in this present act, or any other act of Parliament, that might make any derogation to the saids provisions. Excepting alwyse, and reserving the Castell of Sant-Androes, and Castell yardes of the famine, disposed to George Earle of Dunbar, upon the resignation of George Archbishoppe of Sant-Androes, dissolved and dismembred from the said Archbishoprick, by OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites, with expresse consent and assent of the said Archbishop, personallie compareand in Parliament. Whom to OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD in place and recompence of the said Castell, hes given and disposed the Provostrie of Kirkbill, Vicarage and Arch-Deinrie of Sant-Androes, to remaine with the said Arch-bishop and his Successours, by and attour ane yearlie pension of three hundred markes, given to the said Archbishop, so that the said Castell and Castell yardes, shall nowyse be comprehended in this present act, nor yet shall be compted nor esteemed in any tyme hereafter, any part or portion of the patrimonie of the said Archbishoprick, but shall remaine with the said George Earle of Dunbar, his Heires and Successours, as their proper heritage lawfullie disposed to them, and dissolved from the said Archbishoprick. And in lyke maner, the saids Estaites declares that the foresaid Act, graunted in favours of the saids Bishops, shall not be extended nor be prejudiciall to the infestments, rights and tytles made to Sir Robert Melveill of Murdocarrie Knight, his Heires and Successours mentioned therein of the lands of Monymaill, and Lethame, with the Maner-place, yardes and bigging of Monymaill and Patronage of the Kirk of Monymaill pertaining of auld to the Archbishoppe of Sant-Androes. And declaris the famine infestments to stand in the awne strength, notwithstanding this present Act. Provyding alwyse, that the said Sir Robert Melveill and his heires, sustaine and entertaine the Ministers, serving at the said Kirk, upon the frues of the famine Kirk. And notwithstanding this present act and hail clauses therein contained, OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advyce foresaid, having considered the Fewers of the Barronie of Glasgow, to be many in number and the povertie of the maist part of them, to be sik as they are not hablie to furnilhe

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of Parliament, having consideration of the act made in the tenth Parliament, halden by his Heighnes in the yeare of God, ane thousand, five hundred, fourscore five yeates, and in the eleveneth Act of the said Parliament, containing diverse cautions and provisions, tending to restraine beneficed persons, from away putting of any part of their benefice, whereby the saids benefices may be left in worse estate nor the fame was at their entrie thereto; as the said Act doeth at main length contain. Hes ratified and approven the said act in all the articles, heads and circumstances thereof; declairing the same to remaine in full strength, and to have the effect and force of ane perpetual Law and statute of Parliament in all tyme comming, with thir additions. They are to say, that it shal no wyse be leasome to any person provyded or to be provyded to ane Bishoptik within this Realme; to dispone or give in pension any part of the patrimonie of the said Bishoptik, whilk shall indure and last langer space nor the giver of the said pension shall bruike the said Bishoptik. And if it shall happen the saids persons provyded to the saids Bishopricks now, or in any tyme to come, to dismember any part of their saids benefices or patrimonie thereof. OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of Parliament, decernes and declares all sik facts and deeds to fall under the compasse, perrell and danger of dilapidation of benefices, and to be ane expresse spece and kynde of dilapidation. And be reason it hes ever bene found necessar in all tymes past, that the sewing of lands, setting of tackes, and doing of sik other lawful deeds, be whatsover Bishope and Prelat within this Realme, of any part of the patrimonie of their saids benefices, shoud have the consent of the maist part of their Chapter, without whais consent, had and obteneid to the saids deeds, in haill, or the maist part thereof, was no wyse leasome to the saids Prelats to doe any of the saids deeds. Therefore, the saids Estaites, according to the written Lawes made there-anent, and custome perpuentualie observed in sik cases of before; finds and declares, that na Bishop within this Realme, may set in fiew, tack, or other wyse, nor doe any other deed in the disposing of any part of the patrimonie of their saids Bishopricks, without the advyce, consent and assent of their chapters, or the greatest number of them, duelicly procured and obteneid thereto. In the purchasung of whais consent, it shal no wyse be requirit to have their saids chapters chapterlicly convened (but the saids deeds being otherwyse lawfullie done, and subscribed by the maist part of the said chapter) the not meeting and conveying chapterlicly at the tyme of the making of the said rights, and subscribing thereof, shall furnishe na ground where-upon the saids facts and deeds may be quarrelled, or the saids rights and tydes impugned or annulled, throw the cause or occasion foresaid. Whilk chapters decernes and declares, to remaine now and in all tyme comming, according to the foundation of the saids Bishopricks, and as hes bene in tymes bygane, without any kynde of alteration to be made therein. Excepting alwyse, the chapter of the Archbishoprik of Sant-Androes, the alteration whereof (whilk is made in manet under-written) necessarlie proceeded in that the same consisting of before of the Pryorie of Sant-Androes, is suppressed by the new erection of the said Pryorie, whereby the said chapter ceaseth. And therefore, the saids Estaites hes declared and declares that the said chapter of Sant-Androes, hereafter shall consist of the number of the persons following, Viz. of seven persons of the Ministrie, dwelling and having their charge within his Diocic of Sant-Androes, to be elected and nominat by the said Archbishop himselfe, their charge within his Diocic of Sant-Androes, to be elected and nominat by the said Archbishop himselfe, and after the decesse to be the perpetual convent, and chapter of the said Archbishoprik in all tyme comming; and after the decesse or removing of any one or maa of them, from their present places and function within the said Diocic, the Intraunt succeeding in that place and charge, to succeed also in the same roume of the chapter and convent. Reserving alwyse to the said Archbishop and his successours their auncient privileges, that the common seal of the said chapter to be made of new by their awne advyce, shall serve for their consents without their subscriptions.

In doing whereof the saids Estaites will make na restraint or limitation of any tyme to the saids Bishops. And be reason that the dutie of the saids tacks to be set be the persons provyded to the saids Bishopricks, are to be applyed, and converted for satisfaction, and entreteining the Ministers serving the cure of the Kirks of the saids Bishopricks, and for supplie of anc part of their stipends to be given to them. Therefore the Estaites ordeins the saids Bishopes to have anc cairfull regarde that the saids tacks be set for anc competent dutie, whilk may in some reasonable proportion answering to thar whilk is sett in tack, bee mair meet to supplie anc part of the saids Ministers stipends, whilks duties of the saids tacks and als the stipends whilks shall be provyded to the Ministers, serving at the Kirks of every Bishoprick, shall be in all tyme comming reput as anc part of the rental of the saids Bishopricks: whilk rental shall nowyse be hurt, vicat or diminished by the titulare of the said Bishoprick in any tyme to come. And to the effect that the Ministers of the saids Kirks may be the mair certainlie provyded, and the rental of the Bishopricks may be made (whilk shall nor be altered, as said is) Ordeins all Archbishops and Bishops, wha are already provyded, or shall be provyded in tyme to come, to make anc sufficient rental of the patrimonie of ilk Bishoprick, and to give in the same to the Clerk of Register and his deputies, to remaine in his Register, ad futuram rei memoriam; and that within the space of anc yeare, after the date of this present act, under the paine of anc thousand markes, to be payed be the person wha shall failye in giving of the said rental within the space foresaid, to OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Collector generall. Of the whilk summe, the said Collector shall be halden to make compt and reckning to the auditours of his Heighnes Checker. Lyke as it is provyded, that it shall nowyse belesome to the saids Archbishops or Bishops, to hurt or diminishe any point or part of the said rental, to be given in be them, as said is, whilk will consist cheeflie of the quantie of victuall and silver, whilk fall be provided to the saids Ministers for their steipends for serving the cures of the Kirks of the saids Bishopricks. as said is, but the said rental shall remaine in the awnc integritie in all tyme comming. To the effect that the saids Ministers and their Successours serving the Kirks of the saids Bishopricks, as said is, may be assured of certaine local steipends, for their said service; not to be subject to the many changes and alterations, whereby frequentlie they have bene troubled in tymes preceeding. And last of all, because that the rental to be given in of the saids Bishopricks, will consist and be made up, partie of the duties of the saids tacks to be set, as said is, and that the certaintie of the saids local steipends stands in the up-giving of the saids rentals, whilk OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites, ordeins to be done with all goodlie diligence within the tyme prescryved thereto; that the Ministers serving the Kirks be not frustrat or disapoynted of due satisfaction and recompence for their travels tane in the service foresaid: And that they may be put in certaintie thereof in tyme to come, wherein the evident well and profite of the Kirk does appeare, and manifest the selfe. And for that cause order is given and forme prescryved for setting of tacks, as the preceeding Articles of this act reports. Where-throw whatsover acts and constitutions made by any, either Civill or Ecclesiastik Judge, tending to the prohibition and restraint of setting of lawfull tacks by any beneficed person, ought to be annulled; feing the saids acts and constitutions, whilks wer made upon any preconceived feare of any laik or want of maintenance for entreteining of the Kirk, Or upon any other ground, are now clearly satisfied, by the cairfull regarde whilk his Majestie, and Estaites of this Parliament hes always had, to the advancement of the Kirk, and to the certain provision of the Ministrie thereof, with constant steipends. Anc worke very necessaire, and to be forthered and expd by the present Bishops, and to whais cares and travels, OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites, hes recommended and commits to give over in the certaine provision of the Ministrie, serving at the Kirks of their Bishopricks, with competent and reasonable stipends, answerable and agreeable for their travels and sustentation. And therefore OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites foresaid, Statutes, decernes and declares, all and whatsover actes, lawes, Statutes, ordinances and constitutions Ecclesiastical or Civill, whilks are already made in tyme bygane, or shall happen to be made in tyme to come, whereby any beneficed person within this Realme, are prohibit and discharged to set any tacks of reyns, (whilks tacks may subsist of the law, and whilks acts and ordinances may directlie or indirectlie seime to infringe and annull the saids tacks lawfullie set, as said is, or to inflict any paine or punishment upon the setters thereof) to be altogether null and of nane avall, and to have na strength, force nor effect now and in all tyme comming, sik-lyke as if the same had never bene made; whilks all and others acts, ordinances and constitutions to be made anent the premises, and whilk may tend to the lyke end in any tyme to come, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites simpliciter discharges for now and ever.

Halden at Edinburgh, the eleventh day of August, 1607. by LODOVICK Duke of Lennox, &c. by vertue of his Majesties Commission granted to him, under the great Seale of this Realme at Theobalds, the thrid day of Julie 1607. with the ad- vryce of the Estates of this Realme.

1. Anent Sayers and wilfull bearers of Messes.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estates of this present Parliament, Ratifies, approves and confirms the two acts of Parliament made by his Highnes, with consent of the Estates of this Realme. OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estates of this present Parliament, having consideration of the great hurt and skairh that his Highnes Leiges hes susteinced and daily susteins, by the great diversitie and disconformitic of the weghts, metts and measures within this Realme. Norwithstanding of divers and fundrie acts of Parliament made in the contrare, by his Highnes most worthie Progenitours, and by his Majesties selfe, in the Parliament halden at Edinburgh the 29 day of Julie, one thousand, five hundred, fourefcore seven. And that the negligence of the putting of the acts of Parliament to due execution, is greatest occasion thereof.

IT Is therefore statute and ordained, that all Schirefs, Stewarts of Royalties and Regalities, Proveff, Baillies and Aldermen of Burrowes, ilk one of them within their awne bounds and jurisdiction, put the saids acts of Parliament anent weghts, metts and measures to due execution, betwix the date hereof and the first day of Januar next to come, under all heighest paine. Be vertue of his Majesties Commission granted to him, under the great Seale of this Realme, with advyce of the Estaites of this Kingdome.

1. Act anent Chusing of Pedagogues to Children passing forth of Scotland to Schooles.

ORSAMEIKLE AS OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites of this present Parliament, Considering that ane of the great causes whilk hes procured the growth and increase of Papists within this Kingdome, hes proceeded from the small care and regarde that hes bene had of the education and upbringing of the youth, wha being sent forth of the Realme to places of contrarie profession, and not being first well grounded in Religion, and accompanied with Pedagogues scarce well affected to Religion, they doe oft returne back so possess with superstition and hereticall errors, as they may be justlie suspected for dangerous subjects in the Estaite. For preventing of whilk growth and increase of defection from the true faith by the occasion foresaid, OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites foresaid, Ordeines that all sik Noble-men and others wha hereafter shall direct any Pedagogues with their Sones out of the Countrie, shall be halden by vertue of this present Act, to have ane sufficient Testimoniall of the Bishop of the Diocie where the said Pedagogue for the maist part latelie before made his residence: Testifying and approving the said Pedagogue to be godlie and of good Religion, learned and instructed in the same. And if any Noble-man or other shall happen to send any Pedagogue with their Sones out of the Countrie without the Testimoniall and approbation of the Bishop in manner above-written. In that case OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites foresaid, declares, statutes and ordines that every sik Noble-man and others according to their severall degrees and rankes shall incur the paines particularie under-written. Viz. Every Earle, five thousand pounds. Every Lord, five thousand markes. Every Barron, three thousand markes; whilks summes shall be intromitted with and uplifted of them by his Majesties Thesaurer and his Depute to his Heighnes use. Provyding in-case it shall happen the Bishop of that Diocie to refuse to grant Testimoniall to the Pedagogue upon the premises, the said Bishop thereafter being Lawfullie summoned to compare before the Lords of his Heighnes Secrete Councell to answer to that complaint, and shaw not a reasonable cause of that his refusall. Then in that case, it shall be lawfull to the Lords of Secrete Councell to give their Testimoniall to the foresaid Pedagogue to the effect above-written.

2. Act against Children that becomes Papists when they are out of Scotland.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, Ordeines the Noblemen, Barrons and others to have a speciall care, and to give ordour and direction that the remaining of their Sones forth of the Countrie; shall be in places where Religion is professed, or at the least where there is na restraint of the same by the crueltie of Inquisition: and that during the tyme of their absence they shall not haunt any Idolatrous exercise of Religion. And that sik persons as hes not the moyen to intertaine with their Sones ane Pedagogue, shall send them to sik places where Religion is professed. And in-case their Sones after their departure out of the Countrie shall haunt the exercises of contrarie Religion, OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estaites foresaid, ordeins that their parents, or sik others as hes the charge of them shall be straited to finde caution, acted in the buikes of Secrete Councell, under sik paines as shall be modified, that they shall not supplie, intertaine nor furnishe them with any thing necessary or comfortable unto them after that it be knawn that their Sones are become Papists and haunts Idolatrie, contrarie to the Religion presentlie professed within Scotland, except their reasonable expenses in recalling and bringing them to this Realme of Scotland.

3. Act anent excommunicat Persons not to enjoy their lands, rowmes and possessions.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, considering that whereas there is divers persons wha are Excommunicat for not conforming themselves to the true Religion presentlie professed, and doe notwithstanding still enjoy the possessions of their lands, rents and livings, either directlie in their awne persons, or covertlie in the persons of their friends and wel-willers to their use and behove, to the encouraging of them to persist in their pernicious and erroneous opinions, and to the frustrating of the execution of the acts and constitutions made against excommunicars heretofore. Therefore OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites foresaids, declares, statutes and ordeins, that na persons whatsoever, wha are alreadie or hereafter shall happen to be Excommunicat for not conforming themselves to the Religion presentlie professed within this Kingdome, shall be suffered either directlie in their awne persons, or covertlie and indirectlie by any others in their names and to their behove, to enjoy the possession of their lands, rents and revenues; but that the same shall be medled with, intrometted with and uplifted to his Majesties use.

4. Act giving command to Bishops to send the names of excommunicat persons to the T hesaurer and to the Director of the Chancellarie.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, considdering that to the effect every mans affection and disposition in his Religion may be clearlie and sufficientlie knowne. Therefore OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites foresaids, statutes and ordeins that every Archbishop and Bishop within the bounds of his awne Diocie shall anes everie yeare give up to the Thesaurer, Comptroller, Collector and their deputies, and to the Director of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Chancellarie, ane Roll subscribed with his hand containing the names of all sik persons within his Diocie wha are excommunicat for Religion. And ordeins the said Thesaurer and his deputies, that they receive na resignations, nor grant confirmations nor intestments to nor in favours of any of the persons whais names shall be contained in the said Roll. And lykwyse OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites foresaids, declares that it shall be lawfull to all Lords of Regalities, and to all Superiours whatsoever within this Kingdome, to refuse Breives and precepts of Clare constat in favours of any person or persons, whais names shall be insert in the said Roll. As also to refuse the entrie of Tenants upon comprysing, whais names are insert in the samin Roll.

5. Act against Jesuites, Seminarie Preists, sayers or bearers of Messe, Papists, and refetters of them.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, considering the impunitie of Jesuites, Seminarie Preists and others Papists, adversaries to the true Religion proessed in this Realme, and their refetters in tymes bygane, hes bene the cause as well of their increase as of their insolence in all the parts of this Realme. And that the same hes proceeded partlie upon the negligent execution of the Actes of Parliament made against the saids Papists, Jesuites, and Seminarie Preists and their refetters, and partlie upon some obscuritie of words in the saids Acts. Therefore, OUR SAID SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites foresaids maist willing to have the saids Acts put to due execution in all poynts, and Papistrie and superstition uttelie suppressed according to the intention of the same, hes ratified, approved and confirmed, and by the tennour of this present Act Ratifies, approves and confirms all and whatsoever Acts of Parliament, either made in his Heighnes minoritie and lesse age, or else since his acceptation of the government in his awne person, against Jesuites, Seminarie Preists, Papists, sayers and hearers of Messe, and refetters of the saids persons or any of them; And decernes and ordeins the samine to have full strength, force and effect, and to be put to due execution in all tyme coming, with these explanations after following. That the saids acts made against hearers and sayets of Messe shall be put to due execution, and be extended to all hearers and sayers of Messe, without any exception or restriction. As likewise that all acts made of before against the refetters of the saids persons have their full force, strength and effect, and be put to due execution against the saids refetters; after lawfull intimation and denunciation be made of the saids persons. Whilk denunciation and intimation his Heighnes and the Estaites foresaids declares to be sufficient to cause the saids refetters of the saids Papists, Jesuits, Seminarie Preists, and others contained in the saids acts, incur the paines therein conteneid, if the same be made at the head burgh of the shyre where the saids persons remaines, and at the market crosse of Edinburgh, without any farther intimation to be made there-anent. After the whilk

And that the act made in his Heighnes first Parliament, bearing that none that professe not the true Religion presentlie professed within this Realme may be Judge, Procurator or member of court, be extended to all and whatsoever offices, without any exception or restriction in all time coming. And for the better execution of the saids acts, OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estates foresaid, commands and ordeins all Archbishops, Bishops & Presbyteries to call before them the saids Papists, Jesuites, Seminarie Priests and their resetters, every one within their awn bounds; and to take tryell and cognition if they have contravened the saids acts or any part thereof. And according as they finde after due tryell and probation, that they report the same to his Heighnes Advocat and Secret Councell; to the effect they may be called and conveyed before them, and punished according to the saids acts in all poynts.

Whilk Commissaires to be nominat and create by them, shall Judge and decyde in all causes belonging to their judicatorie. And wherein the Commissaires presentlie in office are in use to decyde, keeping the same style and forme whilk is presentlie observed, and that manner of proceeding whilk shall be preseryved and injoynd to them by speciall injunctions without any alteration of the present Lawes, or introduction of new and uncouth practicks upon the subjects and leiges, and shall have power of confirmation of Testaments every one of them within their awn bounds. The Quotes thereof to be payed to the Archbishops, Bishops, their Chamberlanes, Factors and under-receavers appointed by them. For the better effectuating whereof, his Majestie and Estates of Parliament, ordeins letters of Horning to be given and granted by the Lords of Session in that same very sort that the Commissaires present hes it, for execution of all their sentences and decreits whilk shall happen to be pronounced by them, and compelling of persons to enter and confirme the Testaments of their defuncts in the very same maner that formerlie hes bene done. And for maintaining all things in better order, and the restraining of unlawful Divorcements, over frequentlie practised within this Realme, to the heigh dishonour of God and slander of true Religion. His Majestie with advyce and consent foresaid hes statute and ordeined, that in the Burgh of Edinburgh there shall be resident alwyse foure Commissaires, twa to be nominat and appointed by the Archbishop of Sanct Androes, and twa by the Archbishop of Glasgow, wha shall have the onely power to decide in all causes of divorcement. As lykwyse shall have power of reduction of all decreits pronounced by any other Commissaires, to the hurt and prejudice of any of the leiges; before whom it shall be onely lawfull to intend and persew reductions of inferior Commissaires their sentences and decreits in prima instantia. And in case the saids Commissaires to be appointed by the Archbishops of Sanct Androes and Glasgow, as said is, performe not their ductie, the Lords of Session shall have power to try, cognosce and determine in the same; and shall Judge upon all decreits and sentences alledged to be wrangoullie pronounced by them. And that because they are his Majesties great Consistorie, to whom his Heighnes with advyce of the saids Estates, gives and grants ane heigh supreme Commission for all sik causes, to Judge and determine of them in sik causes. And declares that it shall be lawfull to the saids Lords of Councell and Session, to Advocat causes to themselves from any of the Commissaires, upon just and lawfull complaints made to them by any of the subjects, and not otherwyse. Provyding alwyse, that the said Session shall ever be readie to give ane accompt to his Majestie, that their Advocations have bene grounded upon probable and lawfull grounds for the well of the subjects. 7. Act anent the Commissioners and Justices of Peace.

FORSAMEIKLE As among the infinite monuments and testimonies of his Majesties true pietie, singulare wisdom, sincere zeale to Justice and fatherlie care of his people, the Estaites of this Kingdome have not found any bringing mair deserved commendation and permanent renoune to his Majestie, or greater profite, quyetnesse and comfort to his subjects, nor his constant perseverance in his maist Religious and prudent resolution to extirpat the ungodlie, Barbarous and brutall custome of deadlie feads, which by the inveterate abuse of many bypast ages was become so frequent in this Realme, as the subjects of greatest ranke and qualitie upon every naughtie occasion of base and unworthie contraverfies of neighbourhed, for turves, fold-dykes, fures or marches of lands, foolish words or drunken discords betwene their meanest servants and dependers, and any other in the Countrey, did so readilie embrace the protection of their unjust and unnecessary quarrels, as did many tymes involve themselves and their haill friendship in maist bloodie and mortall troubles, whilk they did prosecute with sik malice and crueltie, as to the extreame perrell of their faules, in fame of their memoriall, and overthrow of their awne and their adversaries houses, did distract the Kingdome in opposite factions, and many tymes furnished matter of maist pernicious, seditious and Civill warres. The inconveniences whereof being manifestlie sene and sensible felt, baith by the Princes & people of this Realme in many bypast ages and earnestlie foght to have bene removed, yet the corruption was so universall, that the greatest part prevailing against the best, that cruell Barbaritie hath both continuance and daily increase, untill his Majestie bending the excellent wisdom and rare graces of his Royall minde (where-with God hes endewed him mair abundantlie then any King that ever did raigne in this lland) against that godlies, unnatural and beastlie Custome, did devise and establish a maist godlie, just and prudent Law and Ordinance for the course to be observed, for removing upon equitable and just conditions the deadlie feads, whilk then stude in great number betwene the maist powerfull subjects in this Kingdome and their kinsmen, assisters and partakers: In the execution whereof, God having miracoulouslie assisted his Majesties maist haille and just intention after exceeding great care and paines taine by his Majestie in tryall of the originall causes of the saids discords, the true circumstances of the injuries and losses sustained by either partie, and in prescryving due satisfaction to be indifferently made for redres of all by past harmes and wrangs. His Majesties admirable constancie hes so overcome all difficulties, that the haill knowne feads within the Kingdome being now removed by perfite reconciliation, and just contentment of all parties having interest therein, his Majesties haill subjects finds sik joy and happines in the sweet frutes of his wisdom and providence exprest in that case; that they earnestlie wish that his Majestie who hes so cairfullie exterminate that abhominable pest of deadlie feads, may in his singulare wisdom finde meanes for ever to prevent the reviving of that monster. Wherein his Majestie considering that nothing gave so great growth and strength to that by past Barbaritie, as the slouth of Magistrates in not suppressing the first seeds of these dissentions, whilk being small and weak in the beginning, for Peets, Turves, Devits, Fold-dykes, poynding, neighbourlie marches, injurious words or light brawles were then easilie to be settled, if diligence and authoritie had bene joyned for repressing thereof, whilk being neglected by these to whom it appertained; these light jarres and insolences did very oft kindle sik flames of disorder, dissention, rankor and feed, as in many yeares with great streames of blood, desolation and ruine of great and ancient houses and races could hardlie be quenched. For remeed whereof his Majestie and Estates foresaids, Ratifies and approves the former Act made by his Highnes, for abolishing deadlie feodes in every head, clause and Article theteof. And farther, statutes and ordaines, that in every Schyre within this Kingdome there shall be yearlie appointed by his Majestie some godlie, wyse and vertuous Gentlemen of good qualitie, moyen and report, making residence within the same, in sik number as the bounds of the Schyre shall requyre, to be Commissioners for keeping his Majesties peace, to whom his Majestie with advyce of the Lords of his privie Councell shall give power and commission to oversee, try and prevent all sik occasions as may breed trouble and violence amongst his Majesties subjects, or forceable contempt of his Majesties authoritie and breach of his peace. And to command all persons in whom they shall see manifest intention to make trouble or disorder, either by gathering together of ydle and disorderly persons, or by publick bearing or wearing of Pistoles or other forbidden weapons, and sik other ryotous and swaggering behaviour; to binde themselves and finde caution under competent paines to observe his Majesties peace, and for their compareance before his Majesties Justice or Lords of his privie Councell, to underly sik order as shall be found convenient for punishing their transgressions or staying of troubles and enormities. And if need shall be, to requyre the duetifull and obedient subjects of the Shyre to concurre with them in preventing all sik contempts and violences, or for taking or waording of the wilfull and disobedient authors, committers and fosterers of these crymes and disorders under sik competent arbitrarie paines as his Majestie and Lords of his privie Councell shall appoynt for the offenders, and sik of the Countrie as being requyred shall not give their readie and asfald concurrence to his Majesties Commissioners in the premises, whereby the ordinarie Magistrats and Officiars within the Shyres, may be the better assisted, and their absence, imployments or other impediments mair commodiousely supplied, without derogation of their jurisdiction or want of readie comfort and Justice to the obedient subjects within the bounds the reof. Ordaining also the saids Commissioners to give true advertisement and information to the Lords of his Majesties privie Councell, Justice generall and his deputies, his Majesties Thesaurer and other Magistrats and officers whom it effeirs, or the names of sik faithfull and unsuspect witnesses and assysers to be summoned in all crymes and disorders whilk shall happen or fall forth within the saids Shyres, as shall be known to be maist meet and able for tryell and probation of the same, and for eschewing that sik as are either aged, feiklie or unable to travell, or ignorant of the facts to be tried, be not unjustlie vexed or unneecessarie drawne from their awne houses and affaires, for matters wherein they are not able to give any light.

8. Act of the apparel of Judges, Magistrats and Kirk-men.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estaites of this present Parliament, finding by daylie experience that the greatnes of his Majesties Emphyre, magnificence of his Court, fame of his Wisdome and Justice, and of the civilitie of his subjects, hes already begun to allure divers foraine Princes, and other strangers of all Estaites to make mair frequent repair to this Countrie, nor ever they did in any preceeding age. Whilk resort of strangers will by all appearance baith continue, and daylie mair and mair increase; and by them na doubt, report will go through all the world of the Estait and government of the Kingdome, according to the order whilk they shall see observed within the same. Whereof the rules and good example flowing from the Estaites of Parliament and Magistrats, to the haill remanent subjects of the Realme, it is maist necessary that sik gravitie and comelines be used by the Lords and Commissioners of Parliament, and others Magistrats in their apparell and behaviour, as may best deserve the good report and true commendation of all Princes, Noble-men and others strangers, wha shall have occasion to see and relate the same. The respect whereof, having induced his Majestic to preserve to the Nobilitie apparell for the Parliament becoming their honourable Estait. And understanding that the remanent members of that heigh Court have nor reformed themselves to the like convenience, neither yet that the course intended by his Majestic for discharging Noblemen and Gentle-men to be elected Provosts and Magistrats of Burrowes (whereof nane should be capable but Burgesse, actual traffickers and inhabitants of the said burrowes) hes tane sik effect as is maist necessary for preservation of the liberties and good estate of the saids Burrowes, and hindering the dissipation of their common good and perverting of their privileges. For remed whereof, his Majestic with advyse of the Estaites of his Heighnes Parliament, statuts and ordains that na man shall in any time comming be capable of Provell or other Magistracie within any Burgh of this Realme, nor to be elected to any of the saids offices within a Burgh, but Marchants and actual traffickers inhabiting within the saids Burghs allanerlie, and na others. And that the saids Magistrats of Burrowes to be hereafter elected, and their Commissioners of Parliament, shall have and weare at Parliament, Conventions and other solemne tymes and meetings when the dignitie shall requyre it, sik comlie and decent apparell as his Majestic shall preservey convenient for their rank and estate, whereby they may be discerned from other common Burgesse, and be mair reverenced by the people subject to their charge. And because a comelie, decent and orderlie habite and apparell in the Judges of the land, is not onely ane ornament to themselves (being a badge and marke for distinguishing them from the vulgar sort) but the same also breads in common people that reverence and regarde that is due and proper for men in these places. And this being a custome universallie observed almost through all Europe, the want whereof is greatic censured by strangers resorting in these parts. The saids Estaites therefore upon infinite proves they have of his Majesties maist singulare wisdome in all his directions, & of his gracious love & affection to this his native Kingdome, have in all humilitie referred to his Heighnes awne appoyntment the assigning of any sik severall sort of habite and vestiment as shall be in his Majesties Judgment maist meet and proper, as well for Lords of Session being the supreme Judges in Civill actions, as for all other inferior Judges of thelyke causes. As also for the Criminall & Ecelesiasticall Judges, & for Advocats, Lawyers & all others living by Law and practise thereof; that fa every one of these people may be known and dignoiced in their place, calling and function, & may be accordinglie regarded and respected. Attour, his Majestic & Estaites forsaids, considering what what slander and contempt hes arisen to the Ecclesiastical Estate of this Kingdome by the occasion of the light and undecent apparell used by some of that profession, and cheeflie these having vote in Parliament. It is therefore statute that every Preacher of Gods word shall hereafter weare black, grave and comelie apparell ^{Ministers.} befitting men of their estate and profession. As lykwyse that all Priors, Abbots and Prelats having vot in Parliament, and speciallie Bishops, shall weare grave and decent apparell agreeable to their function, and as appertaines to men of their rank, dignitie and place. And because the haill Estaites humble and thankfullie acknowledges that GOD of his great mercy hes made the people and subjects of this Countrie so happie as to have a King raigne over us, wha is maist godlie, wyse and religious; hating all erroneous and yaine superstition, just in government, and of lang experience therein, knowing better then any King living what appertains and is convenient for every estate in their behaviour and duetic. Therefore it is agreed and consented to by the saids Estaites, that what order sa ever his Majestie in his great wysdome shall thinke meet to prescribe for the apparell of Kirk-men agreeable to their estate and moeyen; the same being sent in writ by his Majestie to his Clerik of Register, shall be a sufficient warrant to him for inserting thereof in the Buikes of Parliament to have the strength and effect of ane act thereof, with executorialis of horning to be direct there-upon, against sik persons as within the space of fourtie daies after the publication or intimation to them of the said act or charges used against them there-upon, shall not provyde themselves of the apparell to be appointed by his Majestie for men of their vocation and estate, to be used and worne by them and their successors at the tymes, and in maner to be expressed in the said act to be made by his Heighnes there-anent.

9. Act against skandalous speeches and lybels.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD foreseeing that there is nothing so necessary for the perpetual well and quyetnesse of all his subjects of this Monarchie as the furtherance and accomplishment of the union of his two famous and maist auncient Kingdomes of Scotland and England, wherof his Majestie out of his fatherlie care of the peace and happines of his good and faithfull people, having maist infantlike and earnestlie sollicit the perfection, and by the assistance of the worthiest members of both Kingdomes, so effectually advanced the same, as he hopes (God willing) in his Reigne to see the wished end of that great work, whilk in his royal person hes received so miraculous and happy a beginning: And nevertheles finding therein sik malicious lets, as the devill and his supposts do usually suggestt, to the hindrance of all just and godlie interpreses, specially by the false and calumnious brutes, speeches and writs, crasellie uttered and dispersed by some lawles and faulces people of this Realme, aswell in privat conferences as in their meetings at tavernes, all-houses and playes, and by their pasquils, lybels, rymes, cockalans, comedies and siklyke occasions whereby they slander, maligne and revile the people, estate and countrie of England, and divers his Majesties honorable Counsellors, Magistrats and wortheie subjects of that his Majesties Kingdome. The continuance wherof being able to incense the people of England to just grief and discontentment, may not only hinder the intended union of all the good subjects of this Monarchie, but stir up in them sik irreconciliable evill will, as with time might bring forth maist dangerous and harmful effects. For remedie and preventing wherof, his Majestie remembring how strait and severe punishment lies by the Lawes and acts of his maist Royall Progenitors Kings of this Realme heretofore bene ordained to be inflicted upon sik as should devise or utter false and slanderous speeches and writtes to make dissensions betwene the Prince and his subjects, or raise sedition in the Realme; and considering that all sik purposes and writtes as may breed disliking betwene the inhabitants of the saids Kingdomes of Scotland and England, being now all become his Majesties Leige-people, equallie subject and equallie beloved of his Heighnes; tends to maist dangerous dissention and sedition amangs his subjects. Therefore his Majestie with advyce and consent of the haill Estaites of this Parliament, statutes and ordeins, that whatsoever shall hereafter by word or write, devise, utter or publish any false, slanderous or reprochfull speeches or writtes of the Estate, People or Countrie of England, or of any Counsellor thereof, tending to the remembrance of the auncient grudges borne in tyme of by-past troubles, (the occasion wherof is now happilie abolished by the blessed conjunction of the saids Kingdomes under his Majesties Sovereignitie and obedience) or to the hindrance of the wished accomplishment of the perfect union of the saids Kingdomes, or to the slander or reproch of the Estate, people or Countrie of England, or dishonour or prejudice of any Counsellor of the said Kingdome, whereby hatred may be softed and intertained, or misliking raised betwene his Majesties faithfull subjects of this Isle. The authors of sik seditious, slanderous and injurious speeches or writtes, or dispersers thereof, after tryell taken of their offence, either before his Majesties Justice, or the Lords of his Heighnes privie Council, shall be severelie punished in their persons and goods, by imprisonment, banishment, fynyng or mair rigorous corporall paine, as the qualitie of the offence shall be found to merite at his Majesties pleasure. And all sik as hearing or getting knowledge of any sik speeches or writtes, shall conceale the same, and nor reveale them to his Majesties ordinarie officers, Magistrats or Counsellors, whereby the authors and dispersers thereof may be punished, shall underly the lyke tryell and paine.

FORSAMEIKLE As the Kings Majestie is resolved to purge the middle-Myres of this Isle, heretofore called the Borders of Scotland and England of that barbarous crueltie, wickednes and incivillie whilk be inveterat custome was almaiſt become naturall to many of the inhabitants thereof, and to reduce them to the knowledge, love and feare of God, reverence of his Majesties authoritie, obedience of his lawes and ductie to their Neighbors; for accomplishing of that maiſt Royal designe, made chuse of one to be Commissioner in these bounds, whom by many assured prufes in former employments of greatest consequence, his Majestie knew to be indued with all qualities necessarie for ſa weigite a charge; wha following preceellie the rules of his Majesties maiſt prudent directions, and using all possible diligence and dexterie in prosecution thereof, made ſa happe progresse in that good course, as justlie punishing the maiſt perverſed and rebellious ring-leaders (whais amendment was desperate) and transporting others of them forth of this Isle, the rest were brought to very settled quyernes and obedience of his Majesties lawes, a very few number of out-lawes onely excepted, wha being ſa earnestlie ſearched and perſued in these bounds, as all hope of eſcaping and langer impunitie was taken from them; they have by maiſt ſubtle and craftie means by changing their names, and diſſembling the place of their nativitie, convoyed themselves in the in-countries of this Realme, and insinuated themselves in service with Noble-men and others of good qualitie, not only therby eſchewing their deſerved punishment, but also abusing and harming his Majesties good ſubjects by their darned stoutis geir forth thereof and out of the bounds of these middle-shyres, and outting and selling the same in the in-countries. Besides that, others of the ſaids out-lawes have bene allured and had reſet and oversight in the in-countries by some men of rank and power to be instruments and exccutors of ſik revenge and miſchief againſt these to whom they beare malice, grudge or quarrell; whilk for feare of his Majesties lawes and authority they durſt not attempt by themselves. For remeed whereof, his Majestie with advyce and consent of the Estaites of Parliament, ſtatutes and ordains that na man ſhall hereafter either receive or retain any man borne or lang habituate in the late Borders in his service or company, or upon his lands unleſſe he have certaine knowledge or a true and authentick testimonial of his Majesties great Commissioner of the late Borders or his deputies, of the ſaid Border-mans true name and ſurname, place of his nativitie and report of his truth and lawtie, and that he is no knowne malefactor, but reput a duetifull and obedient ſubject, under the paine to incur the danger, and to be made answerable civilie and eriminalie to his Majestie and all his lawfull ſubjects for all actions and crimes whilk might be any wyſe laid to the charge of the ſaids broken-men, for any cause or occasion either preceding or during the tyme of their receiving or retaining them in their service, companie or upon their lands, as if the reſetter had committed the ſaids faults himselfe. As lykwyſe, because some wha are not known to have committed any haynous offence in their awne person obtaining testimonial of their name, birth and good report, may give the same to broken-men to be used by them in places where they are not known. It is ſtatute and ordained that whaſoever ſhall either give his testimonial to any man, whereby it may be abused by another nor him to whom it was truelie granted; or wha ſhall falſlie use another mans testimonial, or wha ſhall fordge to himselfe or use a falſe testimonial in the premisses, shall be punished to the death. And to the effect his Majesties faithfull and obedient ſubjects may have the better knowledge of the ſaids fugitives and broken men, and that ſik as reſet them may want all pretext and excuſe of ignorance, It is ſtatute and ordained that a Roll shall be made by his Majesties great Commissioner of the middle shyres, containing the names of the ſaids rebels, fugitives, out-lawes and broken men, with the maiſt notor and evident marks and deſcription of their age, ſtature, colour and other tokens whereby they may be maiſt eaſily and readily known. And being imprinted ſhall be ſent to the Schirefs and Magiſtrates of the in-countries, and proclaimed at the market Croſſes of the head Burrowes of the shyres, and other places needfull. And thereafter be publickly affixed upon the ſaids Croſſes or Tolbuths of the ſaids Burrowes. After whilk publication, It is ſtatute that the contraveiners of this Act or any head or artickle of the same shall be rigorouſly punished in their persons and goods in maner foreſaid.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, understanding that many Lawes, and Acts of Parliament wyslie institut for preventing and punishing abuses by pecuniall paines have beine so long neglected without any research, tryall or punishment of the contraveiners, or exacting of the fines and penalties appointed for these transgressours that the most part of the people wer led by erroneous opinion to think that the negligence of his Majesties officers in discoverie and perfure of the offenders against these Lawes, had procedit of his Majesties allowance that the saids Lawes and penalties therein contened should goe in desuetude and no way be put in execution, whereby the abuse hes had so long toleration and the people so constant perswasion that they wald not be persued nor troubled for the same, that the number of the guiltie is become so great and the penalties of their contraventions so many, that the rigorous exaction of the same might turne to the overdraw of a multitude of his Majesties subjects.
